DiSalle Sales Tax Increase Hopes Jolted

Senate Democratic Caucus Gives Little Indication Of Okay

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The ticklish situation in which Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's controversial sales tax bill found itself today sent a tingle up the spine of every one of Ohio's 172 lawmakers.

If Democratic Gov. DiSalle has any hope of receiving the additional 365 million dollars in taxes he is asking, or any major part of it, he is counting on about 117 millions from sales tax increases from the state Senate.

A two-hour caucus Wednesday produced nothing to encourage the governor in his pursuit of new tax money.

He is also counting on 128 millions in other new taxes and about 120 millions more in new highway tax money.

The showdown stage has been reached in the Senate's consideration of the sales tax bill. The Senate Democratic caucus indicated the governor has reached the end of his string on compromise.

The two-hour Senate caucus got the word yesterday that DiSalle is willing to back away no farther from his bill originally designed to produce more than 197 million dollars in the next two years.

Senate Democrats will get copies of the latest sales tax bill today for study over the weekend. And, still ringing in their ears is a plea by Senate Majority Leader Frank W. King to consider the state's financial plight before making a decision on the proposed sales tax increase.

In view of Senate Democrats' reports that the sales tax bill does not have a "snowball's chance in Hell if it ever reaches the Senate floor," it is improbable that a weekend's study will sway enough Senate votes to insure favorable Senate action.

But, King warned the Democratic caucus, if the sales tax increase bill is junked, it will be up to the legislators to determine which existing programs will be shaved to make up for the lack of revenues.

Sen. King, with unanimous consent, introduced a bill nearly two months after the deadline to increase assessments against Ohio railroads and utilities for operating costs of the Utilities Commission from $725,000 to $925,000 a year.

The Senate passed and sent to the House bills to:

Permit the experimental formation of co-operative nonprofit medical care groups.

Stand Firm On Promise To Berlin

Will Map Separate Agreement On City If Rejected By Reds

PARIS (AP)—The Western Big Four foreign ministers announced complete agreement today on a package plan they will deliver to the Geneva conference next month. They then unexpectedly ended their session.

A final communique gave no details of the plan. The foreign ministers opened their meeting only Wednesday to unify their positions for the East-West foreign ministers conference at Geneva May 11.

The ministers said they stood four-square behind the West's pledge to hold firm in Berlin and to refuse to abandon the 2¼ million residents of that city.

Though the communique did not say so, official sources reported the ministers had agreed to negotiate a separate Berlin settlement if the Soviet Union rejects the over-all package deal on Berlin, German unity, and European security they plan to propose at Geneva.

This Allied agreement on a fallback position was disclosed before the U.S., British, French and West German foreign ministers began their closing discussion of Britain's project for a zone of limited, controlled arms and armies in central Europe.

Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan has advocated establishment of such a zone as the first step in a cold war settlement with the Soviet Union.

There was a compromise on the British-proposed European security zone. Details were not disclosed. But officials said the proposal was watered down consider-

Panamanian Troops Set For Action

U.S. Planes In Panama To Spot Cuban Invaders

PANAMA (AP) — Panamanian troops today were reported preparing to go into action at any minute against invaders from Cuba holed up on the north coast 20 miles from the entrance to the Panama Canal.

A screen of U.S. fighter planes was ordered up over Panama's north coast today to detect the approach of more invaders reported crossing the Caribbean from Cuba. The air patrol was requested by the five-ambassador team sent by the Organization of American States to help end the vest-pocket attempt to overthrow Panamanian President Ernesto de la Guardia.

An informed source who reported the imminence of attack on the invaders said the National Guard had held off to protect the 1,000 inhabitants of Nombre de Dios, the coastal town taken over by the invaders who landed last Saturday from Cuba.

Between 200 and 300 guard troops have been deployed around Nombre de Dios since Tuesday.

The government said the invading force in Nombre de Dios now numbered 89, including 84 Cubans, 3 Panamanians, 1 American and 1 Puerto Rican. The identity of the American was not known. The government claims the foreigners were hired by Panamanians in Cuba plotting to overthrow De la Guardia.

The U.S. Air patrol was ordered after Panamanian authorities reported one or two more invasion boats carrying up to 300 men left the Cuban port of Surgidero, on Batabano Bay, Tuesday.

The committee of ambassadors recommended that the OAS Council in Washington urge Prime Minister Fidel Castro's Cuban government to "exhaust all measures to prevent a new invasion from being carried out." Castro has condemned action from Cuban soil against other Latin-American governments, and the OAS committee said it had found no evidence that any foreign government was involved in the invasion of Panama.

In a dispatch from Havana, the New York Times reported that Panamanian rebels are plotting a symbolic grab of the canal if they overthrow De La Guardia. The United States has permanent jurisdiction over the waterway and the zone on each side of it under a treaty between Panama and the United States.

Minister of Government Jose D. Bazan told the National Assembly most of the invaders are civilians with criminal records in Cuba or the United States. They were each paid from $200 to $2,000 and were made all sorts of promises in the event of a victory, he said. He claimed about half had belonged to Castro's revolutionary army.

Minerva Man Dies In Crash

Motorcycle Strikes Truck Of City Man

County's 1959 Traffic Toll

9 KILLED

This date in 1958—3 Killed!

TAKE YOUR TIME IN '59

A 24-year-old Minerva area man was injured fatally when his motorcycle smashed into a pickup truck driven by a city man on Route 9 near Salem early Wednesday afternoon.

Gayle Lee Cargill of Minerva R. D. 1 died yesterday afternoon at 3:15 at Salem Central Clinic of injuries suffered in the head-on collision with a truck operated by Richard Laughlin, 32, of 115 Fenton St.

The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Laughlin, driving a Keys Co. truck, was headed south on Route 9 about a mile and a half south of Salem, when he made a left turn.

Mr. Cargill, heading north on the motorcycle, struck the left front corner of the truck, suffering a fractured skull, dislocated hip, cuts and abrasions and other injuries. The mishap occurred at 12:50 p. m.

County Coroner William Koloszi of Salem ruled the death accidental, but is continuing an investigation and is slated to set an inquest.

Laughlin suffered bruises of the leg and was treated at the clinic. Officers charged him with making an improper left turn.

This marked the ninth traffic fatality in the county this year, compared to three this time last year.

Mr. Cargill, a machinist at the Good Road Machine Co., was born at Cadiz, and resided in the Minerva area for 17 years. Besides his parents, he is survived by three brothers and three sisters.

Services will be held at the Augusta Christian Church Saturday afternoon at 2. Burial will be at Minerva.

Wheatley And Duffy Paired In Race For President Tuesday

Members of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters in 13 states and Canada will vote Tuesday to name 12 officers for 2-year terms.

The field in the Brotherhood's general election is comprised of two candidates for each post who received the highest vote in a primary March 3.

E. L. Wheatley, a member of Local 9 in East Liverpool, is bidding for his second full term as international president, opposed by James M. Duffy, also of East Liverpool and a member of Local 31 at East Palestine. Duffy headed the union for about 25 years before he was unseated by Frank Hull of East Liverpool.

Wheatley, then first vice president, moved up to the presidency when Hull retired because of failing health. Later he was elected to the unexpired term and then named to the full two-year term in which he is now serving.

Local unions nominated a total of 124 for the posts in the primaries. However, 64 decided not to run, narrowing the primary field to 60.

Wheatley was elected to his present term in May 1957, defeating Duffy. The new officers will be installed at the 65th annual convention, which will open July 6 in Montreal.

Hound Freed From Crevice After 6 Days

OWASSO, Okla. (AP) — Little Richard, the spirited hound dog freed Wednesday from a rocky "tomb" six days after being lured there by a smart coon, has had other difficulties with the wily critters.

In the future, 2½-year-old Little Richard probably would go into the same rocky bluff's crevice which had trapped him, his owner Larry Wilson said.

Little Richard was under the care of Dr. John Collins, a veterinarian in nearby Tulsa, today. Collins said he had "every chance in the world" to pull through.

The hound was freed after Wilson and 200 volunteers chipped away at limestone and stubborn granite in a persistent vigil.

Dynamite charges and jackhammers were used to widen the crevice inch by inch. An air hammer removed the last boulder and Little Richard crawled feebly into his master's arms, whining affectionately.

"I think that coon knew exactly where he was going when he ran from Little Richard," said Wilson. "That coon probably got away from a lot of dogs there."

Pottery Talks Seen Heading To Conclusion

Separate Bargaining Brings 16-Cent Hike For Illinois Plant

Pottery industry union and management spokesmen could be heading down to the wire in their local negotiations to end a 16-day-old strike in 11 plants in the dinnerware industry and a separate bargaining session produced a 16-cent hourly raise for 900 employes of an Illinois plant.

A mediated conference resumed this morning at 9:30 between the U. S. Potters Association and the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters. The meeting is being held at the USPA headquarters, with Federal Mediator George Woomer as go-between.

The IBOP announced two of its officers completed negotiations Wednesday on a new contract with the Stetson China Co. at Lincoln, Ill., that resulted in a 16-cent hourly pay boost and 2 paid holidays for the 900 workers, who are members of Local 116.

Full details on the new contract must await the return of the two top IBOP negotiators, Charles F. Jordan, secretary - treasurer, and Frank Dales, sixth vice president, the union added. Stetson is a generalware plant, but it bargains separately from the USPA, the IBOP explained.

In earlier negotiations affecting chinaware plants, the IBOP won an 8½-cent hourly "package," including a 6-cent raise that takes effect tomorrow.

It's the fourth day of renewed local bargaining talks, which broke down April 14 at Pittsburgh while union and management were negotiating over reopening of their two-year working agreement. The strike began the next day, affecting about 3,500 in five East Liverpool area plants.

Although negotiators declined to discuss the developments, an optimistic air persisted in yesterday's sessions. The conferees held both morning and afternoon sessions at the USPA office and later the union's representatives held a long meeting last night, presumably to

San Francisco Seen Possible Summit Site

PARIS (AP) — Today's best guess for the site of an East-West summit conference is San Francisco, or Quebec.

Allied diplomats also reported that the target date favored by the Western powers for the conference is about Aug. 1.

Decisions on both points would have to be taken by East-West foreign ministers who meet in Geneva May 11.

As of now, the big powers have not definitely decided that a summit meeting will be held.

Both San Francisco and Quebec have been formally offered to the Big Four as summit sites. In the case of San Francisco, this has been done by the civic authorities. In the case of Quebec, Canada has sent notes to the powers concerned.

Britain has indicated to the Allies a preference for Vienna.

Meters Urged In Sewer Plan

Flat Rate At Chester Is Opposed By State

West Virginia health officials Wednesday indicated to the Chester Sanitary Board that a proposed flat rate financing of a planned sewage disposal system is not as favorable as a meter-based program.

Glen Fortney of Charleston, representative of the State Health Department, and Alvin Knabb, Hancock County sanitarian, conferred with John Pinney and J. A. Bower of the board to discuss the progress of plans for the proposed sewage system and plant.

The board reported plans had been drawn up and legislation prepared for the system, including a rate program of 110 per cent of water bills. Council, however, two weeks ago delayed approval of the program pending a study of a flat rate financing plan.

No meeting has been held between Council and the board.

Fortney said only one state community — Glen Dale — financed its system with a flat rate, and that occurred when the residents, seeking to pay off the debt faster and save interest on the bonds, raised the rates and completed payments in five years.

He said, "The most equitable method for basing payments of the sewage costs is on a meter program."

Board members indicated a meeting may be held with Council next week to discuss the program.

Dutch Freighter Registers Historic Maritime Victory

CHICAGO (AP) — A flagbe-decked Dutch freighter carrying a cargo from the old world comes to Chicago today, marking a nich in the maritime history of the new world.

She is the 353-foot Prime Johan Willem Friso, easy victor in the momentous race to become the first large-size ocean-going vessel to sail the rebuilt St. Lawrence Seaway through the Great Lakes to Chicago.

The ship's arrival heralds a new era in sea transportation, opening up the Midwest to big ships.

A gala celebration, including a parade and banquet, awaited the Friso here, similar to the whoopla Milwaukee put on Wednesday night when the ship docked there.

Chicago and other Great Lakes ports beam at the opening of the seaway because they hope it will inaugurate a great business boom.

The 4,000-ton Friso was one of the first through the locks when the seaway opened Saturday.

The Friso led her nearest competitor in the westward race from Montreal—the 459½-foot American flagship Santa Regina—by some 200 miles.

A roaring welcome by some 15,000 persons greeted Capt. Sander Klein and his crew when the Friso docked at Milwaukee 90 miles north to become the first foreign flagship to tie up at a Lake Michigan port after sailing through the new canal.

Sirens screamed, jets whooshed overhead and a helicopter dropped roses.

The Friso carries a cargo of wines, artificial flowers, glassed mushrooms, toys, twine, window glass, farm implements and dies.

A gala celebration, including a parade and banquet, awaited the Friso here, similar to the whoopla Milwaukee put on Wednesday night when the ship docked there.

Chicago and other Great Lakes ports beam at the opening of the seaway because they hope it will inaugurate a great business boom.

The 4,000-ton Friso was one of the first through the locks when the seaway opened Saturday.

The Friso led her nearest competitor in the westward race from Montreal—the 459½-foot American flagship Santa Regina—by some 200 miles.

A roaring welcome by some 15,000 persons greeted Capt. Sander Klein and his crew when the Friso docked at Milwaukee 90 miles north to become the first foreign flagship to tie up at a Lake Michigan port after sailing through the new canal.

Sirens screamed, jets whooshed overhead and a helicopter dropped roses.

The Friso carries a cargo of wines, artificial flowers, glassed mushrooms, toys, twine, window glass, farm implements and dies.

A 24-year-old Minerva area man was injured fatally when his motorcycle smashed into a pickup truck driven by a city man on Route 9 near Salem early Wednesday afternoon.

Gayle Lee Cargill of Minerva R. D. 1 died yesterday afternoon at 3:15 at Salem Central Clinic of injuries suffered in the head-on collision with a truck operated by Richard Laughlin, 32, of 115 Fenton St.

The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Laughlin, driving a Keys Co. truck, was headed south on Route 9 about a mile and a half south of Salem, when he made a left turn.

San Francisco Seen Possible Summit Site

PARIS (AP) — Today's best guess for the site of an East-West summit conference is San Francisco, or Quebec.

Allied diplomats also reported that the target date favored by the Western powers for the conference is about Aug. 1.

Decisions on both points would have to be taken by East-West foreign ministers who meet in Geneva May 11.

As of now, the big powers have not definitely decided that a summit meeting will be held.

Both San Francisco and Quebec have been formally offered to the Big Four as summit sites. In the case of San Francisco, this has been done by the civic authorities. In the case of Quebec, Canada has sent notes to the powers concerned.

Britain has indicated to the Allies a preference for Vienna.

27-Ton Tank Finished

The Stevenson Co. of Wellsville has completed work on this 27-ton pressure tank which will be used by the Celanese Corp. of Cumberland, Md., in the manufacture of film, plastics and synthetic yarn.

William Haessig, project engineer for Celanese, inspected the vessel Wednesday. It now will be dismantled and shipped by flatcar to Cumberland.

The 8,000-gallon tank will be used as an acetate dissoiver by Celanese. A 100-horsepower motor will be mounted on the top and will drive two large propellers inside to activate the acetate. The props will turn at 39 revolutions per minute, according to Francis Robertson, chief draftsman at Stevenson, who designed the equipment.

Four 20-inch manholes and a sight glass are located on the tank. The manholes will allow a worker to get inside to clean it out. Later, when arrangements are made for a new process, the manholes will be used to connect large pipelines to the tank.

The walls are three-quarter-inch thick and built to withstand pressure of 60 pounds per square inch.

Dick VanEerden, general manager at Stevenson, supervised the work which started Feb. 1. Stevenson designs and manufactures chemical processing equipment and heavy clay machinery. The firm has been in business over 100 years. It was once a foundry.

The larger tanks of the same general type were manufactured earlier this year for the DuPont Corp. plant at Belle, W. Va. They were shipped by barge.

The other officers, all from Weirton, include Mrs. Stanley Kramer, first vice president; Mrs. Emil Presley, secretary; Mrs. Ernest Brammer, treasurer; Mrs. David Thomas, membership chairman, and Mrs. Reno Barone, publicity chairman.

Mrs. Howard Gilmer of New Cumberland was named social membership chairman.

Williamsburg was named for William III of England in 1699 when it succeeded Jamestown as capital of Virginia.

That's Where The Argument Begins

Arthur J. Goldberg of AFL-CIO said in a prepared statement against Gov. DiSalle's antiracketeering proposal in Columbus that he was "not concerned with the effects this bill will have on crooks and racketeers in the trade union movement."

"I am concerned only with the effect this bill will have on honest trade unions and honest trade union leaders, and I am convinced that it is designed to hamper and intimidate honest trade unions," is the rest of his statement.

For 25 years this has been the fixed position of union spokesmen whenever they were called on to state their views about proposals to regulate practices of unionism—that unions should be untouchable because otherwise some harm might befall honest unions and honest unionists.

This position has been extended even to enforcement of laws that everybody else is required to obey. Unionists have been given special indulgences about seizure of property, disturbances of the peace, blocking public streets, personal and mass intimidation.

Even as mild a bill as the Kennedy proposal for penalizing funny business inside unions that have been taken over by money magicians and bully-boys is opposed because it might hurt honest unionists. The argument doesn't hold water.

Honest men do not fight other proposals to curb the antics of dishonest men because there might be an instance of mistaken identity. Their security, they reason, lies in the fact of their honesty and their willingness to take their punishment if they stray from the path of rectitude.

Unionists would be well advised to lay off the argument that laws against hoodlums and racketeers would hurt honest unionists. One day the public might ask for an example.

Uncle Sam Gets 'Kicked In The Head'

Sen. Morse must not feel slighted if most of his fellow Americans outside the U.S. Senate take sides with Clare Boothe Luce against him in their exchange of insults about addle-patedness.

On the face of it — any of it — Sen. Morse is one of the members of Congress who never knowingly lets a second thought bridle his tongue. He shoots from the oratorical hip and asks questions afterward.

He was at no pains to hide his dislike for Mrs. Luce when her appointment to represent the United States as ambassador to Brazil came before the Senate for confirmation.

In the opinion of Henry Luce, the appointee's husband, his wife's usefulness as an envoy had been destroyed by various things Sen. Morse had said in the course of cutting her up as a political foe. His technique in so doing was as ruthless and unpleasant to witness as the technique of a coterie of Southern-fried Democrats who have been cutting up Adm. Strauss, who has been awaiting confirmation of his appointment as secretary of commerce all of this year. These political butchers have no hope of killing their victims. The idea is to cripple them as far as any usefulness is concerned and to drive them back into public life if possible.

It is one of the least admirable activities of the legislative animal in his native lair in Washington. Americans have resented it in all circumstances, whether it was baiting a judicial appointee, badgering a witness, or impugning the motives of a businessman appointee for wanting to serve his government.

When Mrs. Luce retorted to Sen. Morse's slander about her mental competence that Morse had been kicked in the head by a horse, the victim of their horseplay was the United States. The practice of teeing off on individuals who appear before Congress, in the course of making public decisions, is an expensive luxury.

It Is Still A Sound Idea

The Senate State Government Committee has approved a proposal to junk the Ohio axle-mile tax, and this may be the beginning of the end for a sound idea.

But if it goes down the drain, it won't be the first sound idea to disappear, nor will it be any less sound for having disappeared. The idea of the axle-mile tax was to set up a ratio between the cost of the highways the trucking industry needed for profitable operation and the ability of truckers to pay.

An essential detail of the idea in Ohio was to make interstate truckers help meet the cost of bringing the highway system up to date. Ohio, one of the first states to get out of the mud in the early days of automobiling, had been one of the last states to modernize its obsolescent highways. It was paying a penalty for its own early progress in the good-roads movement.

It seemed only fair that the biggest rigs hauling the heaviest loads should pay the largest share of the cost of modernizing the roads without which there could be no profit in operating trucks in Ohio. It was a sound idea then, and it is a sound idea now.

But it ran afoul of determined opposition—opposition that made the proposal's tempestuous passage in the Ohio Assembly seem like smooth sailing. In no time at all, the axle-mile tax had been turned into an interstate battle, as non-Ohio truckers called up legal reserves and legislative shock troops to teach their Buckeye badgerers a lesson they would never forget.

The trucking industry may be too strong for state legislatures to cope with; that's the possibility. If it can run the axle-mile tax off the road here, that will be the end of the idea that a private business using public facilities should pay according to the amount of the use; i.e., the size of the profit it makes from public investment.

Also A Victim

'Equal Rights And Privileges'?

By Victor Riesel

Late in the evening of Wednesday, April 22, and early the following morning a series of phone calls were placed to Capitol 4-3121 in Washington which could cost the Democrats millions of Northern city votes in the '60 presidential election.

Victor Riesel

Capitol 4-3121 is the Senate Office Building switchboard. Someone wanted to reach a bloc of Southern senators in a hurry. Several "someones" in fact.

The caller told either the senators or their administrative aides that the new labor bill amendments needed re-reading. As they stood, the callers warned, they would provoke violence, even worse, in hundreds of Southern communities.

Why? Because the amendments, in effect, gave a member of the president's cabinet the right to go into a Washington Federal District Court and force Southern unions to eliminate the color line in all their functions — socially as well as industrially — in labor-management relations.

THE TELEPHONERS were right. Under Sen. McClellan's (D-Ark) version of his bill of rights, the color line vanishes inside labor. The early McClellan proposals eliminated the many all-Negro, or Class B, local unions which exist today in the North as well as the South.

Furthermore — and very much furthermore — the amendment, as passed that Wednesday, opened all union functions, buildings, facilities and meetings to Negro membership — everywhere. Under the proposed bill, as it stood that night, Negroes could not be kept out of a union dance, a union banquet, a union theater party, a union boat ride, or a union delegation to local, regional, state or international conventions — anywhere in the U.S.

THE AMENDMENT said so very plainly. The old language, which few had noticed earlier, said:

"Every member of a labor organization . . . shall have equal rights and privileges within such organization including identical voting rights and equal protection of its rules and regulations."

Under the famed Supreme Court decision the word "equal" means equal on the premises, not equal in separate buildings, locals or sessions.

And if any Southern or Northern local union defied this section, the Wednesday amendment gave the U.S. secretary of labor the right to rush into court in the city where the violation occurred, or in Washington, D.C. to force equal rights. What's more, the labor secretary did not have to wait, under this proposal, for anything to happen. He could go into court in Washington if he believed a violation was about to occur.

THESE SECTIONS were part of the McClellan bill of rights which the national labor leaders said would open the way for seizure of unions by Communists and crooks.

The labor leaders wanted the whole thing struck from the proposed reform legislation. This put them in an awkward position. Now they found themselves fighting exactly the kind of civil rights law they've demanded in education.

Strategy for the fight on the McClellan amendments was developed in a series of conferences between the extreme liberal senators and the labor men led by Andy Biemiller, chief AFL-CIO lobbyist.

By Thursday night the lines had re-formed on the Hill. The trenches were being held by Southern senators and strange reinforcements—the labor bloc.

The changes were made. Not only could the secretary of labor not go into court but in the new bill of rights he was among the missing. His name had been removed. Only a rank-and-file member can now sue — and only after he has been denied his rights.

The words "equal rights and privileges" were specifically modified to refer to elections as described in the union's by-laws.

In the North, there was anger in the Negro and liberal communities — and the vowing of political vengeance, come '60.

Red Shadow Over Iraq

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

It was a pleasant, warm, sunny day outside as President Eisenhower answered questions at his news conference Wednesday. The question about Iraq was just one among others.

And the President's answer didn't take long. Yet the question and answer threw across the room a somber shadow hardly noticeable as the reporters pressed ahead with other questions of their own.

For in Iraq — and what may happen to it and the Middle East later — lies the possibility of one of America's greatest cold war defeats.

Just the day before, Allen Dulles, head of the Central Intelligence Agency, told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee : Communists are in almost complete control in Iraq.

If they are, then it would seem in a short time they should be able to take over. If they delay it will be because of these two things:

1. That Moscow, for reasons of its own, will order the takeover delayed.

2. That the United States and its allies can find some way and some policy to prevent it. Sen. J. William Fulbright, chairman of the committee, said the situation is not hopeless if such a policy can be found.

But none is in sight now.

Two years ago Iraq was linked with the United States through its defense agreement with Iran, Turkey, Pakistan. That was when Eisenhower asked, and Congress approved, a declaration that the President could use U.S. troops to help any Mideast country against armed aggression from any country controlled by international communism.

One of the weak spots in that policy has always been this: What can the United States do if native Communists take over a country from within, and without obvious outside aggression?

Last summer when the Iraqi army overthrew the government — which had linked itself with this country — by killing the King, Eisenhower sent American troops into neighboring Lebanon.

Lebanon itself at the time was torn by civil war. Eisenhower said he acted then on the request of the Lebanese President, Camille Chamoun, to guard American lives and protect Lebanon against indirect aggression.

But could Eisenhower use these powers to send American troops into Iraq to prevent a Communist takeover from within? It seems unlikely.

For one thing, Iraq's Premier Abdel Karim Kassem, who led the revolution against the King, has surrounded himself with Communists. If they took over, they'd be his boys, not outsiders.

And even if he tried to disown them at the last moment, he might be eliminated too fast to do what the Lebanese President did: ask for American help.

If the Reds take over in Iraq, which is completely shut off from border contact with the Soviet Union by its neighbors, the Soviets would have their first firm foothold in the Middle East. It would be a colossal disaster for the West.

At his news conference the President was asked if there was any way to save Iraq from slipping behind the Iron Curtain. There was nothing concrete in the President's answer.

Most of what he said can be summed up in his last paragraph: "If there is anything we can do to promote better relations with this country without making other enemies in the same region, why that is a good policy to follow. And we do follow it."

U.S. Idealism Remains

By David Lawrence

Herter Will Carry On Principles At Geneva

PARIS

Forty years ago two young Americans busied themselves as attaches of the American Peace Mission in Paris, little realizing that in the distant future, at a critical time in world history, their destinies would be interwoven. In 1917, John Foster Dulles, who has just retired as secretary of state of the United States and Christian A. Herter, the new secretary of state, were learning for the first time at a big international conference about the powerful currents of foreign policy that challenged even then the diplomacy of the United States as it emerged, at the close of World War I, a major power deeply entrenched in European politics.

David Lawrence

Just as President Wilson enunciated then in his great speeches the idealism of the American people, so today Secretary of State Herter, in behalf of President Eisenhower, brings to the Western foreign ministers conference the record of disinterestedness of his country, unsullied by any territorial ambition or quest for material rewards.

AMERICA IS concerned solely with the defense of the free world —as, indeed, it was in two world wars and in the Korean War.

Today, as another dictatorship rears its head and seeks by duress to compel the Western allies to yield to its demands, the United States is insisting that the rights of the people of West Germany must be safeguarded.

The phrase "self-determination" means in 1959 what it meant in 1919—that all people must be allowed to work out their own destiny without the intervention of any outside power.

Christian Herter is at home in Paris. He was born here of American parents 64 years ago and attended French schools until he was 9 years old. He has a good knowledge of both French and German, which comes in handy in diplomacy not only for speeking, but for reading.

He has had a wide experience in American government and politics as well as in diplomacy.

He served in the Herbert Hoover relief mission which helped to rescue the hungry people of Europe and he got an intimate knowledge of economic affairs by serving for five years as personal assistant to Mr. Hoover when he was secretary of commerce.

Then came Chris Herter's career in the Massachusetts Legislature and 10 years in Congress, after which he served two terms as governor of Massachusetts.

ALL THIS has been splendid training for his present post. Secretary Herter, of course, has the blessing of Congress but it is important for him to gain prestige abroad. Diplomats in Europe think he will be more like the parliamentary leaders of Britain and France than the men of legal training who have preceded him in the portfolio of secretary of state.

Among the outstanding lawyers in the latter category have been Charles Evans Hughes, Dean Acheson and John Foster Dulles.

The political leader, to be sure, mingles more freely and perhaps expresses himself with more pleasing generalities than does the lawyer. Actually, the lawyers, like Mr. Dulles, have been far more resourceful than the political type of secretary of state we have had. But mostly this is because they have been more intimately familiar with the precedents of each problem—for the principles of international law are deeply imbedded in world affairs.

The meeting in Paris this week, which is to prepare for the Geneva Conference, is in a sense a rehearsal for the sessions with the Russians that will begin on May 11. Secretary Herter will be taxed to the utmost to keep the foreign ministers conference at Geneva from being stalled by Soviet tactics.

THE ASSUMPTION that a "negotiation" is to take place at Geneva or in a "summit" meeting is rather widely held. But, unfortunately, the world is in for a disillusionment.

The Moscow game is to use the Geneva Conference for propaganda to force a "summit" meeting in July and thereby make more propaganda.

The Western allies have all sorts of counterproposals to offer and will try to weld their own positions together for the Geneva meeting. But they will face there a stone wall. The American position is that enough progress must be made at Geneva to "justify" a "summit" meeting. The Soviets, it is believed, will not make any concessions, except perhaps in form, as they are not accustomed to yielding anything of substance in the international conferences in which they participate.

The purpose of the Paris meetings is to arrange for the presentation of a united front to the Soviet government next month.

Secretary Herter has specific instructions from President Eisenhower to that effect. It is his first big conference in Europe as an active participant but he brings to it an intimate knowledge of the British viewpoint gained from his attendance at the Eisenhower-Macmillan sessions a few weeks ago in Washington.

The area of discussion at Geneva will be wide enough for the Soviets to propose new ways out of the Berlin dilemma but on the basic principle — that West Berlin must remain free—there will be no retreat by the West.

The Past Repealed

By Raymond Moley

LOS ANGELES

The Democratic Legislature now in session in Sacramento has repealed the old legislation which permitted candidates to file in the primaries of both parties.

This system was amended a while ago to require that candidates who cross filed should have a designation with their names on the ballot to indicate the party to which they belonged. Now the whole system has been abandoned and Democrats will be on the Democratic primary ballot and Republicans on the Republican.

Cross filing was one of the methods adopted almost half a century ago when Hiram Johnson as governor was in a bitter fight with the controlling elements in his own Republican party. The reforms adopted then almost obliterated two-party government in the state. Thus the medicine all but killed the patients.

FEW CANDIDATES professed more than casual loyalty to their party and some, in fact, were of most shadowy party affiliation.

When Jimmy Roosevelt was running for governor against the incumbent Earl Warren, he said, "I don't want to make this a dirty campaign but before I finish I shall establish the fact that Warren is a Republican." That fact, some say, was never clearly established despite Jimmy's threat.

Warren and his successor, Goodwin Knight, pretty clearly differentiated their campaigns from those of other Republicans on the ticket. It was generally every candidate for himself.

Curious things happened, such as a case some years ago when an excellent congressman failed to get a majority on his own ticket but won on the other. But the law was sufficiently inconsistent to prohibit his running at all in the election.

No informed Californian will claim that genuine two-party government has ever, since the days of Hiram Johnson, really existed here.

Until the labor unions began to beef up the Democratic party, it was a shadowy affair. Factions and rivalries plagued the Republicans and in 1958 the GOP, split wide open, suffered a terrific trouncing.

Nonpartisanship became the vogue, and voters with no party in which to invest their loyalty found homes in all sorts of movements, sects, and crusades. For the thing that some reformers cannot realize is that human beings have to cling to something.

They are gregarious animals and when the tie of party disappears in politics they vote according to some other loyalty—be it religion, or race, or economic interest. The citizen hates to walk alone.

THE DEMOCRATS passed this repeal of cross filing for no theoretical reason.

They have a big majority of registered voters and this change, they hope, will keep the members of their flock from straying into Republican pastures. For registration has never imposed much of an obligation on a voter to vote for his nominal party.

Some Republicans regret this repeal because it may temporarily handicap them and prevent them from gathering the votes of conservative Democrats whose party heritage might inhibit them from voting a Republican ticket.

It was notable that in Washington a number of the intelligent Republican members of Congress expressed their approval of the change. They believe that the change will increase party responsibility and, in the end, strengthen their party. I am heartily in agreement with them. For unless a better two-party system can be established in this country, we shall forever be at the mercy of minority pressure groups.

The earth travels about 1,601,604 miles a day in its orbit around the sun.

That's Where The Argument Begins

Arthur J. Goldberg of AFL-CIO said in a prepared statement against Gov. DiSalle's antiracketeering proposal in Columbus that he was "not concerned with the effects this bill will have on crooks and racketeers in the trade union movement."

"I am concerned only with the effect this bill will have on honest trade unions and honest trade union leaders, and I am convinced that it is designed to hamper and intimidate honest trade unions," is the rest of his statement.

For 25 years this has been the fixed position of union spokesmen whenever they were called on to state their views about proposals to regulate practices of unionism—that unions should be untouchable because otherwise some harm might befall honest unions and honest unionists.

This position has been extended even to enforcement of laws that everybody else is required to obey. Unionists have been given special indulgences about seizure of property, disturbances of the peace, blocking public streets, personal and mass intimidation.

Even as mild a bill as the Kennedy proposal for penalizing funny business inside unions that have been taken over by money magicians and bully-boys is opposed because it might hurt honest unionists. The argument doesn't hold water.

Honest men do not fight other proposals to curb the antics of dishonest men because there might be an instance of mistaken identity. Their security, they reason, lies in the fact of their honesty and their willingness to take their punishment if they stray from the path of rectitude.

Unionists would be well advised to lay off the argument that laws against hoodlums and racketeers would hurt honest unionists. One day the public might ask for an example.

Uncle Sam Gets 'Kicked In The Head'

Sen. Morse must not feel slighted if most of his fellow Americans outside the U.S. Senate take sides with Clare Boothe Luce against him in their exchange of insults about addle-patedness.

On the face of it — any of it — Sen. Morse is one of the members of Congress who never knowingly lets a second thought bridle his tongue. He shoots from the oratorical hip and asks questions afterward.

He was at no pains to hide his dislike for Mrs. Luce when her appointment to represent the United States as ambassador to Brazil came before the Senate for confirmation.

In the opinion of Henry Luce, the appointee's husband, his wife's usefulness as an envoy had been destroyed by various things Sen. Morse had said in the course of cutting her up as a political foe. His technique in so doing was as ruthless and unpleasant to witness as the technique of a coterie of Southern-fried Democrats who have been cutting up Adm. Strauss, who has been awaiting confirmation of his appointment as secretary of commerce all of this year. These political butchers have no hope of killing their victims. The idea is to cripple them as far as any usefulness is concerned and to drive them back into public life if possible.

It is one of the least admirable activities of the legislative animal in his native lair in Washington. Americans have resented it in all circumstances, whether it was baiting a judicial appointee, badgering a witness, or impugning the motives of a businessman appointee for wanting to serve his government.

When Mrs. Luce retorted to Sen. Morse's slander about her mental competence that Morse had been kicked in the head by a horse, the victim of their horseplay was the United States. The practice of teeing off on individuals who appear before Congress, in the course of making public decisions, is an expensive luxury.

It Is Still A Sound Idea

The Senate State Government Committee has approved a proposal to junk the Ohio axle-mile tax, and this may be the beginning of the end for a sound idea.

But if it goes down the drain, it won't be the first sound idea to disappear, nor will it be any less sound for having disappeared. The idea of the axle-mile tax was to set up a ratio between the cost of the highways the trucking industry needed for profitable operation and the ability of truckers to pay.

An essential detail of the idea in Ohio was to make interstate truckers help meet the cost of bringing the highway system up to date. Ohio, one of the first states to get out of the mud in the early days of automobiling, had been one of the last states to modernize its obsolescent highways. It was paying a penalty for its own early progress in the good-roads movement.

It seemed only fair that the biggest rigs hauling the heaviest loads should pay the largest share of the cost of modernizing the roads without which there could be no profit in operating trucks in Ohio. It was a sound idea then, and it is a sound idea now.

But it ran afoul of determined opposition—opposition that made the proposal's tempestuous passage in the Ohio Assembly seem like smooth sailing. In no time at all, the axle-mile tax had been turned into an interstate battle, as non-Ohio truckers called up legal reserves and legislative shock troops to teach their Buckeye badgerers a lesson they would never forget.

The trucking industry may be too strong for state legislatures to cope with; that's the possibility. If it can run the axle-mile tax off the road here, that will be the end of the idea that a private business using public facilities should pay according to the amount of the use; i.e., the size of the profit it makes from public investment.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Japan has turned out a talking newspaper! A page torn from it can be played like a record. Paper is treated with magnetized metal solution. If it's a success it may be used in U.S., making it possible for subscribers to "play the news." If reader has lost his glasses he can just listen to his paper.

Fancy opening your newspaper and having a prison riot or a divorce suit played for you, prison rio or a divorc suit played for you, with full sound effects!

Readers will go along up to time they have to get a Senate debate or a convention speech that way.

We can't wait for the phonographic classified. It will be fun hearing the woman who lost a poodle, the man who wants to sell his house because he has been transferred out of town.

IMAGINE the sports pages! You will be able to hear the ball game without commercials, hear racetrack cries of "The bum quit" and listen to the argument between Sugar Ray Robinson and the courts. But can you cancel your subscription to paper if it plays a Casey Stengel speech word for word?

A talking newspaper can make the home noisier than ever, a thing hard to imagine. Suppose husband wants to play the stock market closing prices, mother is determined to hear the Hollywood scandal and Junior is putting up a battle for the talking-funnies!

"INTERNATIONAL SALT Soars 10 Points" —headline. Trying for a shakeout?

Gov. Rockefeller urges public to eat more eggs. We always thought his enthusiasm for bagels and knishes would prove temporary.

DAR has voted against "cultural exchange programs" with Russia in the current pattern. The gals believe that Soviet artistic groups performing with fairy-like charm while Moscow slugs Uncle Sam between musical songs and dances do Americans no good. Sen. Kennedy says amendment by Sen. McClellan to proposed new labor bill would "open a Pandora's box to lawsuits, spies and bureaucracy." (Who's this Pandora? Whoever the guy is, Hoffa can take care of him.)

Get a load of this from Dr. Carlos Rodriquer, editor of Hoy, the Cuban Communist Paper. "We, The Cuban Communists, have done our part in the revolution. The tasks of the revolution are not a Communist project but we will give every possible support to them. We are against those who defend North American imperialism in the name of vested interests." Yoo hoo, Fidel!

FIDEL'S RETURN

Ministers: Welcome home. Let's get down to Cuba's problems.

Castro: Soon soon!

Ministers: You must tackle your big job here after all that rest in the U.S.

Castro: Rest! There was less strain and stress in the revolution.

Ministers: You mustn't forget the Cuban 26th of July movement.

Castro: The hard thing to forget is my American Third-Week-In-April movement.

Ministers: You should give immediate attention to the troubles of Cuba, partly due to imperialistic and capitalistic America.

Castro: Be careful what you say about that fine country.

Ministers: You yourself blasted it.

Castro: Anbody can make a mistake. I liked it there. Did you see the pictures?

Ministers: You got more space than the Dalai Lama, Secretary Herter and Margot Fonteyn.

Castro: I won everything but the best play of the year award. I was lucky to get out without my own TV show. Viva Uncle Sam!

Ministers: Shush!

Castro: Viva Broadway! Viva Central Park!

Ministers: Please get your mind back on Cuba.

Castro: Viva Washington! Viva New York! Viva the Pennsylvania Railroad station! Vive the Bronx Zoo!

Ministers: You must get back to Cuba.

Castro: Viva the American hotdog with mustard!

Ministers (hopelessly): We can't get him out of of America!

NEHRU HOPES the Dalai Lama will return to Tibet by Red China invitation. (What's the Tibetan words for "How do you like that!")

A dentist who grossed $650,000 a year is in bankruptcy court with debts of a million and a half. Here's a case where the creditors must be saying, "Open wider." (Maybe a dentist should see his creditors twice a year.)

"I've never taken such a lonely position as my stand against higher taxes," says Gov. Ribicoff of Connecticut. "I find no support anywhere. The people had better speak up against their legislators and pressure groups." Aw, come on, guvnor, you must enjoy loneliness or you could get much more vociferous. Like many governors, you surrender to lonesomeness too easily.

Also A Victim

'Equal Rights And Privileges'?

By Victor Riesel

Late in the evening of Wednesday, April 22, and early the following morning a series of phone calls were placed to Capitol 4-3121 in Washington which could cost the Democrats millions of Northern city votes in the '60 presidential election.

Victor Riesel

Capitol 4-3121 is the Senate Office Building switchboard. Someone wanted to reach a bloc of Southern senators in a hurry. Several "someones" in fact.

The caller told either the senators or their administrative aides that the new labor bill amendments needed re-reading. As they stood, the callers warned, they would provoke violence, even worse, in hundreds of Southern communities.

Why? Because the amendments, in effect, gave a member of the president's cabinet the right to go into a Washington Federal District Court and force Southern unions to eliminate the color line in all their functions — socially as well as industrially — in labor-management relations.

THE TELEPHONERS were right. Under Sen. McClellan's (D-Ark) version of his bill of rights, the color line vanishes inside labor. The early McClellan proposals eliminated the many all-Negro, or Class B, local unions which exist today in the North as well as the South.

Furthermore — and very much furthermore — the amendment, as passed that Wednesday, opened all union functions, buildings, facilities and meetings to Negro membership — everywhere. Under the proposed bill, as it stood that night, Negroes could not be kept out of a union dance, a union banquet, a union theater party, a union boat ride, or a union delegation to local, regional, state or international conventions — anywhere in the U.S.

THE AMENDMENT said so very plainly. The old language, which few had noticed earlier, said:

"Every member of a labor organization . . . shall have equal rights and privileges within such organization including identical voting rights and equal protection of its rules and regulations."

Under the famed Supreme Court decision the word "equal" means equal on the premises, not equal in separate buildings, locals or sessions.

And if any Southern or Northern local union defied this section, the Wednesday amendment gave the U.S. secretary of labor the right to rush into court in the city where the violation occurred, or in Washington, D.C. to force equal rights. What's more, the labor secretary did not have to wait, under this proposal, for anything to happen. He could go into court in Washington if he believed a violation was about to occur.

THESE SECTIONS were part of the McClellan bill of rights which the national labor leaders said would open the way for seizure of unions by Communists and crooks.

The labor leaders wanted the whole thing struck from the proposed reform legislation. This put them in an awkward position. Now they found themselves fighting exactly the kind of civil rights law they've demanded in education.

Strategy for the fight on the McClellan amendments was developed in a series of conferences between the extreme liberal senators and the labor men led by Andy Biemiller, chief AFL-CIO lobbyist.

By Thursday night the lines had re-formed on the Hill. The trenches were being held by Southern senators and strange reinforcements—the labor bloc.

The changes were made. Not only could the secretary of labor not go into court but in the new bill of rights he was among the missing. His name had been removed. Only a rank-and-file member can now sue — and only after he has been denied his rights.

The words "equal rights and privileges" were specifically modified to refer to elections as described in the union's by-laws.

In the North, there was anger in the Negro and liberal communities — and the vowing of political vengeance, come '60.

Red Shadow Over Iraq

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

It was a pleasant, warm, sunny day outside as President Eisenhower answered questions at his news conference Wednesday. The question about Iraq was just one among others.

And the President's answer didn't take long. Yet the question and answer threw across the room a somber shadow hardly noticeable as the reporters pressed ahead with other questions of their own.

For in Iraq — and what may happen to it and the Middle East later — lies the possibility of one of America's greatest cold war defeats.

Just the day before, Allen Dulles, head of the Central Intelligence Agency, told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee : Communists are in almost complete control in Iraq.

If they are, then it would seem in a short time they should be able to take over. If they delay it will be because of these two things:

1. That Moscow, for reasons of its own, will order the takeover delayed.

2. That the United States and its allies can find some way and some policy to prevent it. Sen. J. William Fulbright, chairman of the committee, said the situation is not hopeless if such a policy can be found.

But none is in sight now.

Two years ago Iraq was linked with the United States through its defense agreement with Iran, Turkey, Pakistan. That was when Eisenhower asked, and Congress approved, a declaration that the President could use U.S. troops to help any Mideast country against armed aggression from any country controlled by international communism.

One of the weak spots in that policy has always been this: What can the United States do if native Communists take over a country from within, and without obvious outside aggression?

Last summer when the Iraqi army overthrew the government — which had linked itself with this country — by killing the King, Eisenhower sent American troops into neighboring Lebanon.

Lebanon itself at the time was torn by civil war. Eisenhower said he acted then on the request of the Lebanese President, Camille Chamoun, to guard American lives and protect Lebanon against indirect aggression.

But could Eisenhower use these powers to send American troops into Iraq to prevent a Communist takeover from within? It seems unlikely.

For one thing, Iraq's Premier Abdel Karim Kassem, who led the revolution against the King, has surrounded himself with Communists. If they took over, they'd be his boys, not outsiders.

And even if he tried to disown them at the last moment, he might be eliminated too fast to do what the Lebanese President did: ask for American help.

If the Reds take over in Iraq, which is completely shut off from border contact with the Soviet Union by its neighbors, the Soviets would have their first firm foothold in the Middle East. It would be a colossal disaster for the West.

At his news conference the President was asked if there was any way to save Iraq from slipping behind the Iron Curtain. There was nothing concrete in the President's answer.

Most of what he said can be summed up in his last paragraph: "If there is anything we can do to promote better relations with this country without making other enemies in the same region, why that is a good policy to follow. And we do follow it."

U.S. Idealism Remains

By David Lawrence

PARIS

Forty years ago two young Americans busied themselves as attaches of the American Peace Mission in Paris, little realizing that in the distant future, at a critical time in world history, their destinies would be interwoven. In 1917, John Foster Dulles, who has just retired as secretary of state of the United States and Christian A. Herter, the new secretary of state, were learning for the first time at a big international conference about the powerful currents of foreign policy that challenged even then the diplomacy of the United States as it emerged, at the close of World War I, a major power deeply entrenched in European politics.

David Lawrence

Just as President Wilson enunciated then in his great speeches the idealism of the American people, so today Secretary of State Herter, in behalf of President Eisenhower, brings to the Western foreign ministers conference the record of disinterestedness of his country, unsullied by any territorial ambition or quest for material rewards.

AMERICA IS concerned solely with the defense of the free world —as, indeed, it was in two world wars and in the Korean War.

Today, as another dictatorship rears its head and seeks by duress to compel the Western allies to yield to its demands, the United States is insisting that the rights of the people of West Germany must be safeguarded.

The phrase "self-determination" means in 1959 what it meant in 1919—that all people must be allowed to work out their own destiny without the intervention of any outside power.

Christian Herter is at home in Paris. He was born here of American parents 64 years ago and attended French schools until he was 9 years old. He has a good knowledge of both French and German, which comes in handy in diplomacy not only for speeking, but for reading.

He has had a wide experience in American government and politics as well as in diplomacy.

He served in the Herbert Hoover relief mission which helped to rescue the hungry people of Europe and he got an intimate knowledge of economic affairs by serving for five years as personal assistant to Mr. Hoover when he was secretary of commerce.

Then came Chris Herter's career in the Massachusetts Legislature and 10 years in Congress, after which he served two terms as governor of Massachusetts.

ALL THIS has been splendid training for his present post. Secretary Herter, of course, has the blessing of Congress but it is important for him to gain prestige abroad. Diplomats in Europe think he will be more like the parliamentary leaders of Britain and France than the men of legal training who have preceded him in the portfolio of secretary of state.

Among the outstanding lawyers in the latter category have been Charles Evans Hughes, Dean Acheson and John Foster Dulles.

The political leader, to be sure, mingles more freely and perhaps expresses himself with more pleasing generalities than does the lawyer. Actually, the lawyers, like Mr. Dulles, have been far more resourceful than the political type of secretary of state we have had. But mostly this is because they have been more intimately familiar with the precedents of each problem—for the principles of international law are deeply imbedded in world affairs.

The meeting in Paris this week, which is to prepare for the Geneva Conference, is in a sense a rehearsal for the sessions with the Russians that will begin on May 11. Secretary Herter will be taxed to the utmost to keep the foreign ministers conference at Geneva from being stalled by Soviet tactics.

THE ASSUMPTION that a "negotiation" is to take place at Geneva or in a "summit" meeting is rather widely held. But, unfortunately, the world is in for a disillusionment.

The Moscow game is to use the Geneva Conference for propaganda to force a "summit" meeting in July and thereby make more propaganda.

The Western allies have all sorts of counterproposals to offer and will try to weld their own positions together for the Geneva meeting. But they will face there a stone wall. The American position is that enough progress must be made at Geneva to "justify" a "summit" meeting. The Soviets, it is believed, will not make any concessions, except perhaps in form, as they are not accustomed to yielding anything of substance in the international conferences in which they participate.

The purpose of the Paris meetings is to arrange for the presentation of a united front to the Soviet government next month.

Secretary Herter has specific instructions from President Eisenhower to that effect. It is his first big conference in Europe as an active participant but he brings to it an intimate knowledge of the British viewpoint gained from his attendance at the Eisenhower-Macmillan sessions a few weeks ago in Washington.

The area of discussion at Geneva will be wide enough for the Soviets to propose new ways out of the Berlin dilemma but on the basic principle — that West Berlin must remain free—there will be no retreat by the West.

The Past Repealed

By Raymond Moley

LOS ANGELES

The Democratic Legislature now in session in Sacramento has repealed the old legislation which permitted candidates to file in the primaries of both parties.

This system was amended a while ago to require that candidates who cross filed should have a designation with their names on the ballot to indicate the party to which they belonged. Now the whole system has been abandoned and Democrats will be on the Democratic primary ballot and Republicans on the Republican.

Cross filing was one of the methods adopted almost half a century ago when Hiram Johnson as governor was in a bitter fight with the controlling elements in his own Republican party. The reforms adopted then almost obliterated two-party government in the state. Thus the medicine all but killed the patients.

FEW CANDIDATES professed more than casual loyalty to their party and some, in fact, were of most shadowy party affiliation.

When Jimmy Roosevelt was running for governor against the incumbent Earl Warren, he said, "I don't want to make this a dirty campaign but before I finish I shall establish the fact that Warren is a Republican." That fact, some say, was never clearly established despite Jimmy's threat.

Warren and his successor, Goodwin Knight, pretty clearly differentiated their campaigns from those of other Republicans on the ticket. It was generally every candidate for himself.

Curious things happened, such as a case some years ago when an excellent congressman failed to get a majority on his own ticket but won on the other. But the law was sufficiently inconsistent to prohibit his running at all in the election.

No informed Californian will claim that genuine two-party government has ever, since the days of Hiram Johnson, really existed here.

Until the labor unions began to beef up the Democratic party, it was a shadowy affair. Factions and rivalries plagued the Republicans and in 1958 the GOP, split wide open, suffered a terrific trouncing.

Nonpartisanship became the vogue, and voters with no party in which to invest their loyalty found homes in all sorts of movements, sects, and crusades. For the thing that some reformers cannot realize is that human beings have to cling to something.

They are gregarious animals and when the tie of party disappears in politics they vote according to some other loyalty—be it religion, or race, or economic interest. The citizen hates to walk alone.

THE DEMOCRATS passed this repeal of cross filing for no theoretical reason.

They have a big majority of registered voters and this change, they hope, will keep the members of their flock from straying into Republican pastures. For registration has never imposed much of an obligation on a voter to vote for his nominal party.

Some Republicans regret this repeal because it may temporarily handicap them and prevent them from gathering the votes of conservative Democrats whose party heritage might inhibit them from voting a Republican ticket.

It was notable that in Washington a number of the intelligent Republican members of Congress expressed their approval of the change. They believe that the change will increase party responsibility and, in the end, strengthen their party. I am heartily in agreement with them. For unless a better two-party system can be established in this country, we shall forever be at the mercy of minority pressure groups.

The earth travels about 1,601,604 miles a day in its orbit around the sun.

Most IBOP locals are located in the East Liverpool area, but subordinate unions also will cast ballots Tuesday in other communities in Ohio, Indiana, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York, West Virginia, California, Illinois, Minnesota, Massachusetts, Louisiana, Texas, Connecticut and several provinces in Canada.

In addition to the presidency, the union will fill the posts of secretary-treasurer and 10 vice presidents. The candidates, with the incumbent list first in each case, are:

Armed Widow Gives Police 'Hard Time'

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. (AP) — A widow with a shotgun barricaded herself in her apartment for three hours Wednesday and tossed back the tear gas grenades fired by police.

Mrs. Catherine Ranonis, about 60, held 30 policemen at bay by threatening to shoot at them if they stormed her third-floor apartment.

Two policemen tried to sneak up the back stairs and found out she wasn't bluffing. She fired at them, but the pellets lodged in the wall and the two backed off unhurt.

Finally, however, the tear gas got the better of Mrs. Ranonis and officers wearing gas masks entered the apartment and disarmed her.

Mrs. Ranonis has had a long feud with a neighborhood funeral home over parking of funeral cars in front of the apartment building where she lives. The dispute erupted again Wednesday, and police were called.

Mrs. Ranonis barricaded herself in the apartment and threatened to fire. Thirty tear gas grenades were hurled. She picked them up as they landed and threw them back.

Then police, wearing gas masks mounted the stairs, broke in and disarmed her.

She was taken to Philadelphia General Hospital for psychiatric examination.

How Can I? ? ?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I get rid of earth worms?

A. Earth worms in potted plants can be exterminated by thrusting unburns sulphur matches, heads down, into the earth around the plants. Use from two to six matches, according to the size of the plants.

Q. How can I clean plaster of Paris figures?

A. By using mild soapsuds and a shaving brush. Rinse well. Dipping them into a strong solution of alum water will give them the appearance of alabaster.

Q. How can I prevent rusting of window screens?

A. They will look like new and will not rust if given a coat of linseed oil.

More South Africans were killed and wounded in traffic accidents last year than in the six years of World War II.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a junior in high school and thinking seriously about my future. I'd like to major in political science when I get to the university and go into politics as a career.

My mother thinks this would be a good field as I enjoy working with people and have done well in oratory and debate.

My father is against it and claims any respectable person who goes into politics soon gets corrupted or else he gets his head knocked off. He says politics stinks and he wants me to have no part of it.

My dad is smart and successful man and he's usually right. But I'd hate to think he's right about this.

You're a practical person, Ann, and honest in your opinions. Will you give me your views? I know it would be hard for you to come right out in the paper and say "politics stinks," so, if you agree with my dad, please answer in the confidential section of the column. Just say: "Bob, your dad is right." Thank you.—BOB M.

Dear Bob: My answer is not going to appear in the confidential section of the column, it's a lead letter. Your dad is NOT right.

Politics is the science of government. If it "stinks" it's because people like your dad don't want to have anything to do with it, so they leave the field wide open to opportunists and crooks.

Many able, honest, hard-working citizens chose politics as a career. If you like people, have plenty of energy and a desire to serve your country and your fellow man, I can't think of a more interesting and rewarding field.

P.S.: I'm saving your letter, and if you become president I'll have a collector's item!

All Hopped Up

Dear Ann: My husband is a jolly type, until someone gets him mad—then look out!

He's gotten into a bad habit these last few months and I don't know what to do about it. He drinks about five or six cans of beer then falls asleep on the sofa.

I've tried to wake him up and get him to go to the bedroom but it's impossible. Once he's asleep, a fire engine could roll over his head and he wouldn't budge. I've even tried to pull him off the sofa and get him to the bed but he weighs 210 pounds.

Lately's he's been mad as a hornet's nest when he gets up in the morning and finds he's in the living room. He says his back kills him because the sofa is lumpy. Also his feet hurt because sometimes he falls asleep with his shoes on.

When I tell him I tried to get him to the bedroom he says he doesn't believe it. This is a real problem. What can I do? — 100 POUND WIFE.

Dear 100: Try to get it across to this "jolly type" that he isn't "falling asleep" — he's passing out. Suggest he cut down the intake of hops. Tell him you aren't going to break your back trying to lug him into the bedroom, so he can forget about that.

You could, however, remove his shoes — and have the lumpy sofa reupholstered.

In Need Of Help

Dear Ann Landers: This letter is being written by a group of junior high school girls. We are all 13 years old. Please understand we aren't criticizing anybody. We just want to help a girl in our class.

Nobody wants to locker with this girl in gym or even sit next to her in class because she is so careless about personal habits. To be blunt, she doesn't use soap and water.

Should we send her a unsigned letter or invite her to have a soda with us after school and tell her to her face? — WANT TO HELP.

-:-

Dear Girls: Don't send an unsigned letter and please spare her a meeting arranged for this purpose. Ask the gym teacher to have a talk with the girl. Some people need only to be told.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Youthful Texas Bridegroom Cleared In Shooting Of Wife

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Robert Hale, slender boy bridegroom from Texas, was cleared of guilt Wednesday night in the fatal shooting of his 16-year-old pregnant wife.

A coroner's jury found that Kathleen Hale died Tuesday after she was struck by the accidental discharge of a .20-gauge shotgun.

Hale, who was 18 April 7, is the son of I. B. Hale, former FBI man and a football star at the Texas Christian University in the 1930s.

Kathleen — nicknamed K. K.— was the daughter of John Connally, once an aide to Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex). Both families live in Fort Worth.

The youngsters eloped to Ardmore, Okla., and married March 16. The boy has been working for a boat company here.

At times young Hale was almost incoherent as he told the jury of a stormy honeymoon and then finding his bride of 44 days seated on a couch in their small apartment with a shotgun in her hands.

He knelt at her feet, he said, and pleaded with her to put it down. She wouldn't.

"She was telling me she was going to kill herself," he said. "She said, 'Bobby, I'm sick in my mind and I need help. I know now that no one can help me.'"

She brought the gun up to her head, Hale said. Then —

"At the last desperate moment, I lunged at the gun and hit it. I hit it as hard as I could. It hit the wall and she was still . . ."

Kathleen — nicknamed K. K.— was the daughter of John Connally, once an aide to Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex). Both families live in Fort Worth.

The youngsters eloped to Ardmore, Okla., and married March 16. The boy has been working for a boat company here.

At times young Hale was almost incoherent as he told the jury of a stormy honeymoon and then finding his bride of 44 days seated on a couch in their small apartment with a shotgun in her hands.

He knelt at her feet, he said, and pleaded with her to put it down. She wouldn't.

"She was telling me she was going to kill herself," he said. "She said, 'Bobby, I'm sick in my mind and I need help. I know now that no one can help me.'"

She brought the gun up to her head, Hale said. Then —

"At the last desperate moment, I lunged at the gun and hit it. I hit it as hard as I could. It hit the wall and she was still . . ."

Would Improve Reclamation

DiSalle's Views Sought On Strip-Mine Program

By DUANE E. CROFT
Review Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS — House Speaker James A. Lantz and Rep. Joseph Loha (D-Jefferson) sought today the views of Gov. Michael V. DeSalle on two bills aimed at improving reclamation of strip-mined lands.

The two lawmakers were scheduled to confer with Rankin Gibson, administrative assistant to the governor, who said they might also talk to the chief executive if possible.

Loha is chairman of the House Mines and Natural Resources Committee and a co-sponsor of the two measures, which have been referred to a subcommittee for redrafting into a single bill.

—:—

ONE, drawn up by the governor's office and co-sponsored with Loha by Rep. Vernon G. Hisrich (D - Tuscarawas), would transfer the functions of the present Division of Reclamation in the Agriculture Department to the forestry division of the natural resources division.

It also would permit the state to buy up lands stripped before the 1948 reclamation law and restore them to usable state.

The other measure, co-sponsored by Hisrich and Rep. Paul B. Siple (D-Lawrence), would expand reclamation procedures.

Loha said witnesses before the House committee have urged that the Division of Reclamation be kept intact. He said conservationists fear that putting its duties into the forestry division would weaken reclamation enforcement.

—:—

LANTZ said he believes the governor will go along with this view. The governor himself indicated as much in a conversation with Loha last week. But the chief executive said he still thinks the division should be transferred to the Department of Natural Resources.

Lantz said the two lawmakers also would sound out the administration on combining the procedures measure with the governor's bill.

Loha added that he wanted to suggest to DiSalle that a study be made of reclamation programs that would provide a sound basis for revision of the state's approach in the future.

In referring the two bills to subcommittee, the lawmaker said he wanted further information on the testimony of strip mine operators that the stepped-up methods proposed would be "economically prohibitive."

Some of the witnesses said the cost would be as much as $2.50 a ton more than the present three cents. They said this would price their coal out of the market in comparison with other states.

LOHA indicated that the bill probably would have to be watered down to win approval of the legislature.

In its present form, land to be stripped would be classified in eight categories. The operator would be required to remove and set aside 10 inches of top soil. After completing his mining, he would have to return the area as nearly as possible to its original contour and replace the top soil.

The measure would increase the operator's deposit from $220 to $500 an acre, $440 of which would be refunded if he fulfilled the requirements of the law.

Loha indicated that revisions in the measure would require that the last cut be covered at least three feet above the coal vein, that all roof coal and pyritic shales be buried, that any break-throughs for underground mining be sealed off, refuse from the operation be removed and the area planted with trees or legumes.

He suggested that under this program the bond could be left at the present level.

Wife Risks Life In Swollen Creek To Save Family

HYNDMAN, Pa. (AP) — "It was a horrible experience, but thank God my husband and children are all right."

So exclaimed Mrs. Nellie Bridges of Corringanville, Md., Wednesday after she dived into a rain-swollen stream to summon aid for her husband and three children, trapped in their partially submerged auto.

Mrs. Bridges, 41, who was driving, said she missed a curve on a country road near the Pennsylvania-Maryland line about 20 miles southwest of Bedford, Pa., and the car plunged into the creek.

Mrs. Bridges said: "We were in about five feet of water in midstream. The water was very cold but I kept on going. I hadn't swam for more than 23 years, long before I was married. But I knew I had to reach shore."

She ran about half a mile to a farmhouse and phoned for help.

Two volunteer firemen swam to the car and brought the father and children to shore.

U.S. Officials See Loopholes In Soviet Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. authorities see many potential loopholes in the Soviet offer of limited inspection to back up a nuclear test ban.

With only a general outline of the Soviet idea presented thus far, officials here have found enough weak spots to make the plan unacceptable to the West.

They are awaiting clarification before deciding whether the proposal shows promise of breaking the long deadlock in the Geneva talks on banning nuclear tests.

While Western powers had called for an inspection system to police any agreement to halt atomic explosions, Moscow had been pushed for veto power.

In a switch Tuesday night, the Soviets announced in Geneva they would cooperate in a veto-free system of spot checking the sites of suspected nuclear explosions — provided the Big Three atomic powers fix in advance the number of such checks to be allowed each year.

Beaver Local 'Friends' To Ask Help For High School Library

A drive will begin throughout the Beaver Local School District Monday to obtain support for increasing the facilities at the high school library.

A canvass will be made of all homes in the week-long campaign to enroll residents in a new chapter of Friends of the Library, a nationwide organization whose aim is improving community facilities for literature, information and research materials.

An informal organization which has no officers or set dues, the Friends will seek donations of money for memberships in a move to increase the library's size.

George VanHorne, executive head of the school district, said state officials pointed out the schools had one weakness when the high school charter was granted recently, and that weakness was the library.

Although the state officials gave the district five years in which to complete enlargement of the facilities, a group of residents has already begun to organize plans for purchasing needed books he said. The library at present has some 1,500 volumes, and needs about 7,000, many of which are special books which generally can only be bought.

VanHorne said the new group has long-range plans for fund raising projects this summer. Mrs. R. G. Schiff of St. Clair Ave. Ext. has gathered a group of women representatives of all parts of the district to head the move.

VanHorne said present plans for enlargement of high school facilities call for increasing the size of the library at the school.

Beaver Local 'Friends' To Ask Help For High School Library

A drive will begin throughout the Beaver Local School District Monday to obtain support for increasing the facilities at the high school library.

A canvass will be made of all homes in the week-long campaign to enroll residents in a new chapter of Friends of the Library, a nationwide organization whose aim is improving community facilities for literature, information and research materials.

An informal organization which has no officers or set dues, the Friends will seek donations of money for memberships in a move to increase the library's size.

George VanHorne, executive head of the school district, said state officials pointed out the schools had one weakness when the high school charter was granted recently, and that weakness was the library.

Although the state officials gave the district five years in which to complete enlargement of the facilities, a group of residents has already begun to organize plans for purchasing needed books he said. The library at present has some 1,500 volumes, and needs about 7,000, many of which are special books which generally can only be bought.

VanHorne said the new group has long-range plans for fund raising projects this summer. Mrs. R. G. Schiff of St. Clair Ave. Ext. has gathered a group of women representatives of all parts of the district to head the move.

VanHorne said present plans for enlargement of high school facilities call for increasing the size of the library at the school.

House Group Rejects Bill On College Entrance Exam

By Our Own Correspondent

COLUMBUS — A House education subcommittee recommended the death sentence Wednesday night for a bill to allow state universities to set entrance requirements for Ohio residents.

Present law requires the state institutions to admit all graduates of Ohio public schools.

Recognizing that the institutions face problems of overcrowding, the three-man group said that many high schools in the state are unable now to provide instruction adequate to meet the standards that might be established.

UNTIL public school instruction has been improved through better financing and reorganization, the report said, it would be unfair to exclude graduates of inferior schools from the opportunities of the state universities.

The subcommittee, of which Rep. Thomas Gindlesberger (R-Holmes) was a member, also criticized the bill for not making any provision for uniformity of entrance standards among the six institutions.

"This approach would create a situation in which one university might accept generally the graduates of a particular high school, while another might not," the report said. "The subcommittee believes this is not the desirable result, but that some basic admission policy should apply with uniformity in all of the state universities.

The group suggested that the inter-university council study this problem and "attempt to agree upon a set of minimum standards" which would apply for all.

—:—

THE REPORT cited testimony before the parent committee that the campuses must admit students "who are not seriously desirous of an education, but who desire only to benefit from the general social activities" and take up space that could be used by serious students.

But, it added, these students represent a minority of the total admissions.

The committee delayed action on the subcommittee's report.

The committee did recommend for passage a bill to allow teachers to serve on public library boards after amending it to include employe's of other political subdivisions and to specify that such employe's could not constitute a majority of the boards.

County Group Offers Views On Gas Taxes

A resolution concerning proposed gasoline taxes in Ohio was approved by the Board of Directors of the Columbiana County Motor Club at a meeting Wednesday night with Atty. Lynn Riddle of near Lisbon.

Riddle, secretary of the county unit and president of the Ohio Automobile Association, said it was the opinion of the state association any gas tax should be for a two-year period and include fair apportionment of revenues among the state, county, municipalities and townships and that a survey be made to determine how much money is needed to complete the road program authorized by the federal highway act of 1956.

"This would eliminate the proposed increase in license fees," Riddle said. The board unanimously approved a resolution supporting the program of the state group.

A. P. Morris of Salem, manager, said the county added 178 members in March when the unit showed the highest total income in the club's history along with the highest expenditures.

Mark Klingensmith, president, was in charge.

Obtaining food is conceded to have been man's first "problem" in history.

Spring flowers and lighted tapers were used on the tables and Mrs. Stanley Rose, dinner chairman, was assisted by members of the Women's Association. Mr. and Mrs. James Sheets were in charge of decorations.

Selections were played by the high school clarinet quartet, who recently won a superior rating at the state contest in Muskingum. Tom Fannin, Irene McSwegin, Ruth Cline and Ron McAtee played "Country Story," "Clarinet Polka" and the contest piece, "Interlude."

Robert Kidd, chairman of religious education, presided and introduced Edward Millward, general superintendent, who spoke briefly and in turn introduced the superintendents of the various departments. They presented their teachers and officers.

Departmental heads are Mrs. George Fletcher, kindergarten and nursery; Mrs. M. Rudolph Miller, primary and junior; Donald Baxter, youth, and Kenneth Persohn, adult.

The Rev. M. Rudolph Miller gave a resume of the church work of Eugene Hall, general superintendent, and John Patterson, adult superintendent, who recently resigned after many years service.

They were presented with a gift from the Sunday school and congregation. Paul James was given a humorous prize as the "champion ticket seller."

$770 In Prizes Planned For Midland Celebration

The committee planning Midland's annual July 4th celebration said today prizes will total $770 for floats in the parade and other awards will be announced. The theme of the event will be "Freedom on the Fourth."

All - day events are scheduled from 9 a. m. to 11:30 p. m. and new features include 49-star flag dedication, water show at the Veterans' Memorial Pool, puppet show and drill team exhibition.

All floats entered in the parade must have the "flavor of the Fourth" to be considered for prizes.

Prizes will be awarded in one general classification for larger floats, a second for youth organizations and a third for humorous entries.

Eight prizes totaling $520 will be awarded in the general class, including $100, $90, $80, $70, $60, $50, $40 and $30.

Prizes for youth organizations have been increased with six totaling $235, including $75, $60, $45, $30, $15 and $10.

Two prizes, $10 and $5, will be given to humorous entries.

Preceding the dedication ceremony for the new 49-star flag, which will be flown for the first time July 4, the 48-star flag will be raised at 9 a. m. on the new flag pole in front of the new gymnasium then lowered in a military ceremony.

Representatives of all branches of the armed forces will participate in the ceremony, raising the 49-star flag, to be arranged by John Fantone, commander of Midland American Legion Post 481 and parade marshal.

It is planned to present the flag, which will be a memento when the new 50-star flag is designed and authorized, to Midland High school for its trophy case. The brass choir of the high school will play at the ceremony.

As part of the evening entertainment and to expedite movement of the parade, drill teams will present an exhibition under military regulations in the high school stadium at 7. Judges from the armed forces will make awards. Prizes are expected to be increased over former years. Drill teams will march but not perform in the parade.

Climaxing the judging, the Pittsburgh Rockets Drum Corps will present a crack drill exhibition.

A water exhibition, featuring lifesaving techniques, skin diving and comedy swimmers, will be presented at the pool.

A puppet show for children will be featured in Lincoln Park in the afternoon for a breather for mothers.

The Red Cross will erect an aid station in the park and other facilities for mothers of small children.

Capt. William MacBurney, chairman of the fireworks committee, said that the display planned is the same as presented at the dedication of the new bridge across the Straits of Mackinac.

Ground fireworks, which were often dimmed by smokey atmosphere, have been eliminated in favor of a longer and more impressive aerial display.

The committee chairmen will present reports on special assignments at the next meeting in Council chambers May 26.

Traffic Fatalities Up

CHICAGO (AP)—Automobile accidents killed more than 8,000 persons in the nation in the first three months this year, an increase of 5 per cent over the first quarter of 1958. The fatalities in March were 9 per cent higher than in 1958.

Geneva, Switzerland, was once annexed by France.

Tragic Floods Grim Reminders

Congress Advised To Start Construction Of New Dams

WASHINGTON (AP)— Congress has been advised to start building new dams in Pennsylvania, New York, Kentucky, Virginia, West Virginia and Ohio to avoid a repitition of this year's floods.

William J. Hull, chairman of the Legislative Committee of the Ohio Valley Improvement Assn. (OVIA) said Wednesday that President Eisenhower's budget was deficient in failing to make provision for such works.

"The tragic floods of 1958 and 1959 are grim reminders of the inadequacies of existing flood control works, effective though these have been in reducing flood damages," he said.

A delegation from OVIA, an organization of government, financial and industrial interests, testified before a House Appropriations Subcommittee.

The group suggested, among other things, spending the following on new flood control reservoirs:

Allegheny River Reservoir (Pa. and N. Y.), $2,000,000; No. 2 Barren River Reservoir, Ky.), $1,000,000; Pound River Reservoir (Va.), $2,500,000; Shenango River Reservoir (Ohio and Pa.), $500,000.

Summerville Reservoir (W. Va.) $2,000,000; West Branch, Mahoning River Reservoir (Ohio), $525,000.

President Eisenhower's budget lists no money for new construction of these projects.It does propose planning money for Pound and West Branch $229,000).

With respect to the Ohio River Hull said the President's budget has a grave deficiency in failing to propose advance engineering work on five replacement projects.

These are, along with OVIA's recommended spending:

Belleville Locks and Dam (Ohio and W. Va.), $125,000; Cannelton Locks and Dam (Ind. and Ky.), $150,000; Opossum Creek Locks and Dam (Ohio and W. Va.), $150,000.

Racine Locks and Dam (Ohio and W. Va.), $50,000; and Uniontown Locks and Dam (Ky. and Ind.).

Rep. A. D. Baumhart Jr. (R-Ohio) told the committee floods in the Fremont-Sandusky County, Ohio, area have been so frequent some industries are threatening to leave.

He urged the committee to approve $60,000 for a survey of the Sandusky River basin so a "proper flood control program (may be) eventually initiated."

Baumhart reminded the congressmen that within the space of two weeks early this year, people in the area had disastrous floods.

Rep. Jackson E. Betts (R-Ohio) supported an expenditure of $55,000 on a survey of the Scioto River and its tributaries, source of a large portion of the flood damage this year in Ohio.

Rep. John E. Henderson (R-Ohio) backed the Eisenhower administration's request for $5,000 to continue work on Dillon Dam above Zanesville, Ohio.

He also backed a $284,000 federal expenditure to complete a channel improvement and levee construction on the Moxahoseville, Ohio.

'Fuel Clause' To Cut Some Power Rates

CANTON — The Ohio Power Co. announced Wednesday it will reduce its fuel cost recovery charges in rates to industrial and large commercial customers.

The company's application for such a reduction has been approved by the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio. Although slight, the reduction will mean an annual savings of $9,900 to some 1,500 customers.

The "fuel clause" provision allows Ohio Power to adjust its charges upward or downward as the cost of fuel used in the generation of electicity varies from a certain base price.

The present downward revision in its industrial and commercial tariffs reflects improvement in the company's generating and delivery efficiencies, Ohio Power said.

The fuel clauses in the company's residential and small commercial tariffs are not presently operative and not affected by today's PUCO action.

Ohio Power, with headquarters at Canton, serves approximately 450,000 customers in 53 of the state's 88 counties.

Bucs Break Loose For Big 7th Inning

By ED WILKS
AP Sports Writer

The Milwaukee Braves are back in the National League lead. Who put them there?

Johnny Logan and Wes Covington, the men Manager Fred Haney had announced he was going to bench after the Braves lost two in a row to Cincinnati and fell out of first place.

Shortstop Logan belted his first homer of the year, with a man on, in a three-run second inning against St. Louis Wednesday night. Left fielder Covington blasted his first of the year, also a two-run shot, in the third and the Braves were off to a 9-3 victory.

The win gives Milwaukee a .042 percentage edge over the Los Angeles Dodgers, who slipped to second with a 5-4, ninth-inning defeat at Philadelphia. Cincinnati powered into third, ripping the Chicago Cubs 18-8 as San Francisco skidded to fourth with a 3-2 loss at Pittsburgh.

Toronto Knocks Potters From Sectional

Wadas Hurls 2-Hitter For 3-2 Decision

The slumping East Liverpool Potters were knocked from the Sectional baseball tournament when Toronto scored a 3-2 victory Wednesday afternoon at the Pleasant Heights Field in Steubenville.

In the low-hit, low run contest, the Potters were limited to two hits by John Wadas, while Toronto collected only four off Mike Kapp and Jimmy Miles. The Potters defeated Toronto earlier this year.

The tournament setback marked the third straight defeat for the Blue and White who lost to Lisbon and Jefferson Union last week. The Potters are now at the .500 mark for the season with a 5-5 record.

Toronto took the lead Wednesday with one run in the second inning when the Potters committed two errors which allowed Nelson to score.

East Liverpool bounced back to grab the lead with two runs in the third inning on two Toronto errors.

The Red Knights scored their deciding runs in the sixth innings when Kapp was knocked from the box.

Back to back singles by Wadas and Paul Bucey put Kapp on the ropes and Kestner sent both runs across with a two-out single.

Dave Goodballet and Don Seibert collected the lone hits for the Potters.

A year ago the Potters advanced to the finals of Sectional tourney before being eliminated by Steubenville Big Red.

In two other Sectional contests Wednesday, Steubenville Big Red advanced to the semi-finals by defeating Jefferson Union, 8-1, and Steubenville Central eliminated Mingo Junction, 4-3.

Today Central meets Wintersville, which drew a bye, and Big Red and Toronto clash.

East Vs. West Atmosphere At 85th Running

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The 35th running of the Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs Saturday has developed a strong East-against-West atmosphere with a pert filly adding the romantic touch.

Four colts from the East look like possible winners in the mile-and-a-quarter classic. The West has four highly regarded prospects.

Silver Spoon, C. V. Whitney's eye-catching filly, may become the sentimental favorite — if not the top betting choice.

The East challenges with Christopher T. Chenery's First Landing, undisputed 2-year-old champ last year. The West replies with Tomy Lee, a British-bred colt owned by Texan Fred Turner Jr.

Sword Dancer, Our Dad and Easy Spur are the other Eastern hopefuls rated a good chance.

Finnegan, California Derby winner and Royal Orbit, third in that race, showed they are derby contenders in the Derby Trial here this week.

Silver Spoon also is a Westerner but bettors are likely to overlook that and recall only one filly in history has won the Derby.

Adding emphasis to the East-West conflict is the absence of Calumet Farm, which copped the past two derbys with Iron Liege and Tim Tam.

Trainer Jimmy Jones pulled On-And-On out of the race Wednesday, saying the colt is not ready.

Yesterday's Stars

Hitting — Hector Lopez, Athletics, drove in four runs with three hits, one a homer, and singled home the winning run in the ninth inning for 7-6 decision over the Senators.

Pitching — Ronnie Kline, Pirates, gave up seven hits, but walked only one and struck out nine for 3-2 victory after shutting out the Giants over the last seven innings.

McMahan's Grand Slam Is Big Blow For Chester

A 13-hit attack featured by two big blows off the bats of shortstop Bob McMahan and outfielder Bill Mayhew carried the Chester Panthers to a 16-6 victory at South Side Wednesday afternoon.

McMahan smacked a grand slam homer in the second inning and Mayhew followed with a three-run triple in the third frame. Between these two the Panthers acquired all the runs needed to defeat South Side.

It was the sixth win in eight games for Coach Dom Amedeo's nine and the second over South Side.

Four home runs were struck in the game. In addition to McMahan's, Golden, Ashcroft and Brooks of South Side all hit for the circuit.

Dave Brookes had a good day at the plate for the Panthers when he collected four hits in five trips.

Pep Daugherty was effective enough as he scattered six hits and struck out 11 batters. He helped his own cause at the plate with three singles in five times at bat.

While Daugherty was credited with the victory, Brooks, one of three South Side hurlers, was tagged with the defeat.

Chester scored in every inning but the fourth and seventh. The Panthers tallied two in the first, five in the second on McMahan's blast, three in the third and three each in the fifth and sixth frames.

Al Lopez Hit By Flu Views Defeat On TV

CHICAGO (AP) — Manager Al Lopez hopes to shake off the flu bug long enough to take charge of his White Sox in person against the New York Yankees tonight.

The senor didn't get any closer to Wednesday's game, which the Yankees won 5-2, than the television set in his hotel bedroom.

"That game might have been a different story if it hadn't been for this flu bug around," he said. "We had several chances to win it."

Bob Turley, a right-hander toiled the distance, being nicked for nine hits. But the Sox couldn't hit when it counted, leaving 11 runners stranded.

The Sox left-handed pinch hitters who were in sick bay included Earl Torgeson, Billy Goodman, Don Mueller and rookie John Callison. Also virus victims were catcher Earl Battey and pitcher Dick Donovan, who was to have taken the mound tonight.

"I don't know how many we will have back in uniform until the doctor fills me in," said Lopez. "I don't even know if I'll be allowed to be there."

Bryan And Racer Seen Combination To Beat In '500'

CHICAGO (AP)—Jimmy Bryan, winner of the 1958 Memorial Day 500-mile race, and his revitalized racer may be the combination to beat in this year's version of the motor classic.

"You going to win again this year?" he was asked.

"If the car is capable of it, we'll do it," said Bryan.

The 32-year-old Phoenix, Ariz., driver won last year in the Belond Special. He'll drive the same racer next May 30. But it has some new features designed to boost its speed and reduce time spent in the pits.

A set of airlift jacks powered by nitrogen can raise all four wheels at the same time for quick tire changes. This feature will shorten tire change and refuel stops by six to seven seconds each and bring the pits stop down to about 20 seconds.

The pit stops are vital because the 500 miles usually wears out four sets of tires.

Hogan Posts New Low In Warmup Round At Colonial

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—The shadow of "The Hawk" hung over a field of 48 that started out in the $27,300 Colonial National Invitational Golf Tournament today.

It was Ben Hogan, a fellow who used to haunt them all when in his prime. And Wednesday he shot a 7-under-par 63.

While it was a tuneup round, it was the lowest score ever posted at Colonial.

Mike Souchak of Grossinger, N.Y., Arnold Palmer of Ligonier, Pa., Jack Burke of Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., and Cary Middlecoff of Hollywood Beach, Fla., were favored in the odds 7 to 1 to take first money of $5,000.

But Hogan's great round had the boys talking about "The Hawk" of other days. He was called that.

The Milwaukee Braves are back in the National League lead. Who put them there?

Johnny Logan and Wes Covington, the men Manager Fred Haney had announced he was going to bench after the Braves lost two in a row to Cincinnati and fell out of first place.

Shortstop Logan belted his first homer of the year, with a man on, in a three-run second inning against St. Louis Wednesday night. Left fielder Covington blasted his first of the year, also a two-run shot, in the third and the Braves were off to a 9-3 victory.

The win gives Milwaukee a .042 percentage edge over the Los Angeles Dodgers, who slipped to second with a 5-4, ninth-inning defeat at Philadelphia. Cincinnati powered into third, ripping the Chicago Cubs 18-8 as San Francisco skidded to fourth with a 3-2 loss at Pittsburgh.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The 35th running of the Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs Saturday has developed a strong East-against-West atmosphere with a pert filly adding the romantic touch.

Four colts from the East look like possible winners in the mile-and-a-quarter classic. The West has four highly regarded prospects.

Silver Spoon, C. V. Whitney's eye-catching filly, may become the sentimental favorite — if not the top betting choice.

The East challenges with Christopher T. Chenery's First Landing, undisputed 2-year-old champ last year. The West replies with Tomy Lee, a British-bred colt owned by Texan Fred Turner Jr.

Sword Dancer, Our Dad and Easy Spur are the other Eastern hopefuls rated a good chance.

Finnegan, California Derby winner and Royal Orbit, third in that race, showed they are derby contenders in the Derby Trial here this week.

Silver Spoon also is a Westerner but bettors are likely to overlook that and recall only one filly in history has won the Derby.

Adding emphasis to the East-West conflict is the absence of Calumet Farm, which copped the past two derbys with Iron Liege and Tim Tam.

Trainer Jimmy Jones pulled On-And-On out of the race Wednesday, saying the colt is not ready.

Yesterday's Stars

Hitting — Hector Lopez, Athletics, drove in four runs with three hits, one a homer, and singled home the winning run in the ninth inning for 7-6 decision over the Senators.

Pitching — Ronnie Kline, Pirates, gave up seven hits, but walked only one and struck out nine for 3-2 victory after shutting out the Giants over the last seven innings.

McMahan's Grand Slam Is Big Blow For Chester

A 13-hit attack featured by two big blows off the bats of shortstop Bob McMahan and outfielder Bill Mayhew carried the Chester Panthers to a 16-6 victory at South Side Wednesday afternoon.

McMahan smacked a grand slam homer in the second inning and Mayhew followed with a three-run triple in the third frame. Between these two the Panthers acquired all the runs needed to defeat South Side.

It was the sixth win in eight games for Coach Dom Amedeo's nine and the second over South Side.

Four home runs were struck in the game. In addition to McMahan's, Golden, Ashcroft and Brooks of South Side all hit for the circuit.

Dave Brookes had a good day at the plate for the Panthers when he collected four hits in five trips.

Pep Daugherty was effective enough as he scattered six hits and struck out 11 batters. He helped his own cause at the plate with three singles in five times at bat.

While Daugherty was credited with the victory, Brooks, one of three South Side hurlers, was tagged with the defeat.

Chester scored in every inning but the fourth and seventh. The Panthers tallied two in the first, five in the second on McMahan's blast, three in the third and three each in the fifth and sixth frames.

Al Lopez Hit By Flu Views Defeat On TV

CHICAGO (AP) — Manager Al Lopez hopes to shake off the flu bug long enough to take charge of his White Sox in person against the New York Yankees tonight.

The senor didn't get any closer to Wednesday's game, which the Yankees won 5-2, than the television set in his hotel bedroom.

"That game might have been a different story if it hadn't been for this flu bug around," he said. "We had several chances to win it."

Bob Turley, a right-hander toiled the distance, being nicked for nine hits. But the Sox couldn't hit when it counted, leaving 11 runners stranded.

The Sox left-handed pinch hitters who were in sick bay included Earl Torgeson, Billy Goodman, Don Mueller and rookie John Callison. Also virus victims were catcher Earl Battey and pitcher Dick Donovan, who was to have taken the mound tonight.

"I don't know how many we will have back in uniform until the doctor fills me in," said Lopez. "I don't even know if I'll be allowed to be there."

Bryan And Racer Seen Combination To Beat In '500'

CHICAGO (AP)—Jimmy Bryan, winner of the 1958 Memorial Day 500-mile race, and his revitalized racer may be the combination to beat in this year's version of the motor classic.

"You going to win again this year?" he was asked.

"If the car is capable of it, we'll do it," said Bryan.

The 32-year-old Phoenix, Ariz., driver won last year in the Belond Special. He'll drive the same racer next May 30. But it has some new features designed to boost its speed and reduce time spent in the pits.

A set of airlift jacks powered by nitrogen can raise all four wheels at the same time for quick tire changes. This feature will shorten tire change and refuel stops by six to seven seconds each and bring the pits stop down to about 20 seconds.

The pit stops are vital because the 500 miles usually wears out four sets of tires.

Bahama Decisions Moyer In 10-Rounder

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Phil Moyer's attempt to parallel the spectacular rise of his younger brother, Denny, to national ring prominence through a nationally televised bout failed Wednesday night.

The 21-year-old Portland welterweight was stopped by the steady left jabs of the more experienced Yama Bahama, 26, who won a unanimous decision in the 10-round battle. There were no knockdowns.

Moyer's 19 - year-old brother, Denny, is ranked sixth nationally among welterweights.

11th Gold Watch Award To Be Given Wednesday

Another East Liverpool athlete will be honored when Legion No. 29, F.O.P. presents its 11th annual Gold Watch Award next Wednesday during the Policeman's Ball in the Elk's Ballroom.

The award honors the athlete or person who, in the opinion of a selection board, has done most for athletics in the city.

George Hale, named first team all-Ohio in football, was the 1958 Gold Watch winner.

Others who preceded him were Jerry Hyder, Jack Betts, Pete McCullough, Dick O'Hanlon, Walt Ashbaugh, Al Bailey, Ed Oliver, George Parfitt and Bernie Allen.

Voting for the Gold Watch award is done by an anonymous board.

Russ Romero's orchestra will furnish music for the dance from 9 to 12.

The Dodgers drew 78,672 at their first baseball game in the Los Angeles Coliseum on April 18, 1958. It was a National League record.

Hogan Posts New Low In Warmup Round At Colonial

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—The shadow of "The Hawk" hung over a field of 48 that started out in the $27,300 Colonial National Invitational Golf Tournament today.

It was Ben Hogan, a fellow who used to haunt them all when in his prime. And Wednesday he shot a 7-under-par 63.

While it was a tuneup round, it was the lowest score ever posted at Colonial.

Mike Souchak of Grossinger, N.Y., Arnold Palmer of Ligonier, Pa., Jack Burke of Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., and Cary Middlecoff of Hollywood Beach, Fla., were favored in the odds 7 to 1 to take first money of $5,000.

But Hogan's great round had the boys talking about "The Hawk" of other days. He was called that.

Chamberlain Paces Rebels

COLUMBIANA — Lee Chamberlain proved the force behind Fairfield-Waterford's track and field victory over North Lima here Wednesday.

Chamberlain won four events to pace the Rebels to a 70½ to 38½ victory, their second win in three starts.

Chamberlain won the 220 - yard dash in 24.2 and captured the shot put, discus and high jump.

George Cheresne won the mile and half mile runs while Dave Groubert was a double winner in the 100-yard dash and broad jump.

Fairfield-Waterford will vie at Leetonia Monday.

Peter Alliss of England won the Italian, Portuguese and Spanish Open golf crowns in 1958.

Yanks Rap 3 Homers To Hand White Sox 5-2 Setback

Tigers Defeat Orioles, 7-1, In 5 Innings

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

What is it about the Chicago White Sox that peps up the New York Yankees?

The Yankees had their first run-in of the season with the White Sox Wednesday. They went into Comiskey Park below .500 after losing four in a row. Bob Turley, the Yanks' right-handed ace, had lost two straight. And the club hadn't been able to score twice in any of its last 51 innings.

So the Yankees rapped three home runs, scored twice in the first inning and beat the White Sox 5-2. Turley evened his record at 2-2, although giving up nine hits.

That hoisted the Yankees to fifth with a .500 record and helped to hand the Cleveland Indians, whose game with Boston was rained out, a 1½-game lead. The Baltimore Orioles remained tied with Chicago for second despite a 7-1 loss at Detroit in a game held to five innings by rain. Kansas City defeated Washington 7-6.

In the National League, Milwaukee regained first place with a 9-3 victory over St. Louis while Philadelphia knocked off Los Angeles 5-4. Cincinnati clobbered the Chicago Cubs 18-8. Pittsburgh beat San Francisco 3-2.

Mickey Mantle, Hank Bauer and Bill Skowron homered for the Yankees, who had eight hits. Mantle's came with a man on in the first off loser Ray Moore (0-2).

Only Nellie Fox, who was 4-for-5, gave Turley any real trouble.

Frank Lary (1-2) became the first complete-game pitcher this season for the Tigers. Larry Osborne and Al Kaline homered for Detroit in a three-run first inning against loser Arnie Portocarrero (0-3).

Hector Lopez drove in four runs for the A's, singling home the winner in the ninth. He also hit a two-run homer. Tom Gorman (1-0) won it in relief after the Nats chased Ralph Terry in a three-run ninth that tied it 6-all. Vito Valentinetti (0-2) was the loser in relief.

Reds Soar To New High By Pounding Cubs, 18-8

CINCINNATI (AP) — Don't be surprised if the vendors at the Cincinnati Reds' Crosley Field add a phrase to that old cry "you can't tell a player without a scorecard:

They'll probably add something like this:

"And you can't keep a score without an adding machine."

That's the way it seems to be working out with the hit-happy Reds. They reached a season high Wednesday night as they crushed the Chicago Cubs 18-8.

That followed on the heels of an 11-10 victory over Milwaukee Sunday and in their last nine games the slugging Cincinnatians have scored 81 runs—an average of nine a game. But they've won only five of those contests.

All of which probably makes manager May Smith's greying and thinning hair get greyer and thinner.

If he just had the pitching to go with that kind of hitting his lads might be able to run away from the rest of the National League.

Wednesday night, however, his starter, Brooks Lawrence, couldn't go all the way even after he had been staked to a 10-0 lead in the first two innings. He had to be relieved in the seventh when the Cubs cut the Cincinnati margin to four runs at 12-8.

The Redlegs came up with three doubles and home runs by Roy McMillan, Gus Bell and Frank Robinson among their 18 hits.

They were helped along, too, by 11 walks, four Cub errors and two wild pitches.

Frank Thomas was the only Redleg starter who didn't get at least one hit but he drove in two tallies on sacrifice flies. Vada Pinson was on base six straight times on four walks and two hits.

The two teams play the second game of their series tonight with Bob Purkey scheduled to pitch against Chicago's Bob Anderson.

Sky Divers Set For Opening On Saturday

ORANGE, Mass. (AP) — The first sports center for some of the United States' more vigorous athletes — sky divers — opens Saturday in Orange, Mass.

It's the sport parachuting center, for members of a new and growing sport-competition parachuting.

Among the scheduled attractions of the formal opening are comparison jumps between teams representing the United States, Russia, Yugoslavia and Hungary.

The center, located on a tract of land on the Orange Municipal Airport, includes a 52-acre drop zone, designed to eliminate any possible landing hazards.

There's more to this business of competition parachuting then just jumping out of an airplane and pulling the string.

First there's the matter of accuracy. Here, the object is to guide the 'chute so that the landing is made as close as possible to a predetermined target spot.

Then there's maneuvers.

These are made from so-called free falls. The jumper leaves the plane at heights ranging from 3,300 to 8,500 feet altitude, and the parachute is not opened until reaching 2,000 feet. That time in between is the free fall.

In competition, the jumpers — during this free fall period — are required to execute certain maneuvers. These include 360 degree turns, spins and rolls. Points are scored both from the ground judges and an official who sometimes follows the contestant from the plane.

Indians To Open 2-Game Set With Yankees Friday

CLEVELAND (AP) — Weather permitting, the Cleveland Indians will open a two-game series with the New York Yankees at Municipal Stadium Friday night.

Cal McLish, who has a 2-0 record, will pitch the opener and Herb Score (1-1) will face the Yankees Saturday afternoon. Don Larsen is expected to oppose McLish and Art Ditmar probably will be the Yankee pitcher Saturday.

The Indians had their fourth day off in a row today. They were scheduled to play the Boston Red Sox Wednesday night, but it began to rain just after the Tribe completed batting practice and the game was called at 8:15 p.m.

Cincinnati U. Is Placed On Probation By NCAA

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The National Collegiate Athletic Assn.'s Advisory Council watched the University of Cincinnati today to see what action it plans to comply with an indefinite probation sentence.

The NCAA's 18 - man Council slapped the penalty on Cincinnati Wednesday for the school's 53-year-old cooperate education plan.

There were indications from the school Wednesday night that it might defy the ruling.

Dr. Walter C. Langsam, university president, said school officials feel they have done nothing wrong and the ruling "does not mean we are going to give up the co-op system for the sake of the NCAA."

The NCAA decided grants-in-aid to 13 football and basketball players, plus their on-the-job salaries under the cooperative system put them over the NCAA-allowed limit on financial help.

Under the co-op program, students attend classes for seven weeks and then work at paying jobs for seven weeks.

The Council ordered Cincinnati to make an adjustment in its student - athlete financial aid setup and report to the Council in October.

The Council then can either lift the probation or impose stringent penalties if corrections are not made, said Walter Byers, NCAA executive director.

Toronto's Victory Averts Southern Sweep In League

By The Associated Press

Only the Toronto Maple Leafs' 6-5 victory over the Havana Sugar Kings prevented a southern sweep in the northern opening of the International League Wednesday.

The league-leading Miami Marlins breezed to an 11-2 victory over the Montreal Royals, the Richmond Vees whipped Buffalo 9-4 and Columbus gained a 3-2, 11-inning victory over Richmond.

Archie Wilson's pinch-hit triple in the sixth inning drove in two runs to boost the Leafs to their victory before 14,268 opening day fans in Toronto. Borrego Alvarez' three-run homer in the fourth put the Sugar Kings in front briefly. Dave Pope, who had three hits, hit his second homer of the season in the second inning for Toronto.

Norris C. Dean has been Georgia Tech's track coach for 16 seasons.

Floyd In Top Shape To Put Tilts On Line

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The "real" Floyd Patterson will be on display against British challenger Brian London in their heavyweight title fight Friday night.

That was almost the final word from the champion's camp today as Patterson went through his last light workouts for his fourth title defense.

"This is going to be the Patterson you saw knock out Archie Moore," said trainer Dan Florio. "You're going to see the real Patterson against London."

Patterson flattened Moore in the fifth round Nov. 30, 1956, in a flawless performance.

The 24 - year - old champion agreed he was in top shape but, as usual, declined to make any predictions.

London didn't appear to be ruffled.

"I've never been better," he said. "All I hope is that I have the perfect edge, when I step into the ring tomorrow night. Then it will be a good show."

The 15-rounder is scheduled for 9 p.m. (EST). It will be broadcast and telecast nationally (NBC).

Yanks Rap 3 Homers To Hand White Sox 5-2 Setback

Tigers Defeat Orioles, 7-1, In 5 Innings

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

What is it about the Chicago White Sox that peps up the New York Yankees?

The Yankees had their first run-in of the season with the White Sox Wednesday. They went into Comiskey Park below .500 after losing four in a row. Bob Turley, the Yanks' right-handed ace, had lost two straight. And the club hadn't been able to score twice in any of its last 51 innings.

So the Yankees rapped three home runs, scored twice in the first inning and beat the White Sox 5-2. Turley evened his record at 2-2, although giving up nine hits.

That hoisted the Yankees to fifth with a .500 record and helped to hand the Cleveland Indians, whose game with Boston was rained out, a 1½-game lead. The Baltimore Orioles remained tied with Chicago for second despite a 7-1 loss at Detroit in a game held to five innings by rain. Kansas City defeated Washington 7-6.

In the National League, Milwaukee regained first place with a 9-3 victory over St. Louis while Philadelphia knocked off Los Angeles 5-4. Cincinnati clobbered the Chicago Cubs 18-8. Pittsburgh beat San Francisco 3-2.

Mickey Mantle, Hank Bauer and Bill Skowron homered for the Yankees, who had eight hits. Mantle's came with a man on in the first off loser Ray Moore (0-2).

Only Nellie Fox, who was 4-for-5, gave Turley any real trouble.

Frank Lary (1-2) became the first complete-game pitcher this season for the Tigers. Larry Osborne and Al Kaline homered for Detroit in a three-run first inning against loser Arnie Portocarrero (0-3).

Hector Lopez drove in four runs for the A's, singling home the winner in the ninth. He also hit a two-run homer. Tom Gorman (1-0) won it in relief after the Nats chased Ralph Terry in a three-run ninth that tied it 6-all. Vito Valentinetti (0-2) was the loser in relief.

Bill Skowron led the Yankee hitters during the spring exhibitions with a .466 batting mark. He also led in triples, doubles, hits and in scoring runs.

Reds Soar To New High By Pounding Cubs, 18-8

CINCINNATI (AP) — Don't be surprised if the vendors at the Cincinnati Reds' Crosley Field add a phrase to that old cry "you can't tell a player without a scorecard:

They'll probably add something like this:

"And you can't keep a score without an adding machine."

That's the way it seems to be working out with the hit-happy Reds. They reached a season high Wednesday night as they crushed the Chicago Cubs 18-8.

That followed on the heels of an 11-10 victory over Milwaukee Sunday and in their last nine games the slugging Cincinnatians have scored 81 runs—an average of nine a game. But they've won only five of those contests.

All of which probably makes manager May Smith's greying and thinning hair get greyer and thinner.

If he just had the pitching to go with that kind of hitting his lads might be able to run away from the rest of the National League.

Wednesday night, however, his starter, Brooks Lawrence, couldn't go all the way even after he had been staked to a 10-0 lead in the first two innings. He had to be relieved in the seventh when the Cubs cut the Cincinnati margin to four runs at 12-8.

The Redlegs came up with three doubles and home runs by Roy McMillan, Gus Bell and Frank Robinson among their 18 hits.

They were helped along, too, by 11 walks, four Cub errors and two wild pitches.

Frank Thomas was the only Redleg starter who didn't get at least one hit but he drove in two tallies on sacrifice flies. Vada Pinson was on base six straight times on four walks and two hits.

The two teams play the second game of their series tonight with Bob Purkey scheduled to pitch against Chicago's Bob Anderson.

Sky Divers Set For Opening On Saturday

ORANGE, Mass. (AP) — The first sports center for some of the United States' more vigorous athletes — sky divers — opens Saturday in Orange, Mass.

It's the sport parachuting center, for members of a new and growing sport-competition parachuting.

Among the scheduled attractions of the formal opening are comparison jumps between teams representing the United States, Russia, Yugoslavia and Hungary.

The center, located on a tract of land on the Orange Municipal Airport, includes a 52-acre drop zone, designed to eliminate any possible landing hazards.

There's more to this business of competition parachuting then just jumping out of an airplane and pulling the string.

First there's the matter of accuracy. Here, the object is to guide the 'chute so that the landing is made as close as possible to a predetermined target spot.

Then there's maneuvers.

These are made from so-called free falls. The jumper leaves the plane at heights ranging from 3,300 to 8,500 feet altitude, and the parachute is not opened until reaching 2,000 feet. That time in between is the free fall.

In competition, the jumpers — during this free fall period — are required to execute certain maneuvers. These include 360 degree turns, spins and rolls. Points are scored both from the ground judges and an official who sometimes follows the contestant from the plane.

Indians To Open 2-Game Set With Yankees Friday

CLEVELAND (AP) — Weather permitting, the Cleveland Indians will open a two-game series with the New York Yankees at Municipal Stadium Friday night.

Cal McLish, who has a 2-0 record, will pitch the opener and Herb Score (1-1) will face the Yankees Saturday afternoon. Don Larsen is expected to oppose McLish and Art Ditmar probably will be the Yankee pitcher Saturday.

The Indians had their fourth day off in a row today. They were scheduled to play the Boston Red Sox Wednesday night, but it began to rain just after the Tribe completed batting practice and the game was called at 8:15 p.m.

Cincinnati U. Is Placed On Probation By NCAA

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The National Collegiate Athletic Assn.'s Advisory Council watched the University of Cincinnati today to see what action it plans to comply with an indefinite probation sentence.

The NCAA's 18 - man Council slapped the penalty on Cincinnati Wednesday for the school's 53-year-old cooperate education plan.

There were indications from the school Wednesday night that it might defy the ruling.

Dr. Walter C. Langsam, university president, said school officials feel they have done nothing wrong and the ruling "does not mean we are going to give up the co-op system for the sake of the NCAA."

The NCAA decided grants-in-aid to 13 football and basketball players, plus their on-the-job salaries under the cooperative system put them over the NCAA-allowed limit on financial help.

Under the co-op program, students attend classes for seven weeks and then work at paying jobs for seven weeks.

The Council ordered Cincinnati to make an adjustment in its student - athlete financial aid setup and report to the Council in October.

The Council then can either lift the probation or impose stringent penalties if corrections are not made, said Walter Byers, NCAA executive director.

Toronto's Victory Averts Southern Sweep In League

By The Associated Press

Only the Toronto Maple Leafs' 6-5 victory over the Havana Sugar Kings prevented a southern sweep in the northern opening of the International League Wednesday.

The league-leading Miami Marlins breezed to an 11-2 victory over the Montreal Royals, the Richmond Vees whipped Buffalo 9-4 and Columbus gained a 3-2, 11-inning victory over Richmond.

Archie Wilson's pinch-hit triple in the sixth inning drove in two runs to boost the Leafs to their victory before 14,268 opening day fans in Toronto. Borrego Alvarez' three-run homer in the fourth put the Sugar Kings in front briefly. Dave Pope, who had three hits, hit his second homer of the season in the second inning for Toronto.

Norris C. Dean has been Georgia Tech's track coach for 16 seasons.

Floyd In Top Shape To Put Tilts On Line

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The "real" Floyd Patterson will be on display against British challenger Brian London in their heavyweight title fight Friday night.

That was almost the final word from the champion's camp today as Patterson went through his last light workouts for his fourth title defense.

"This is going to be the Patterson you saw knock out Archie Moore," said trainer Dan Florio. "You're going to see the real Patterson against London."

Patterson flattened Moore in the fifth round Nov. 30, 1956, in a flawless performance.

The 24 - year - old champion agreed he was in top shape but, as usual, declined to make any predictions.

London didn't appear to be ruffled.

"I've never been better," he said. "All I hope is that I have the perfect edge, when I step into the ring tomorrow night. Then it will be a good show."

The 15-rounder is scheduled for 9 p.m. (EST). It will be broadcast and telecast nationally (NBC).

Out Of The Air

By MARIE TORRE

More Than Just Beautiful

That subterranean area known as daytime television sheltered comfortably, among other seekers of tranquilizing TV, former beauty queen Bess Myerson, who appears to be ready for some professional thrills.

Marie Torre

After eight years of awarding mink coats to contestants on "The Big Payoff," Bess again is thinking of music, which you may remember was her first love. It was partially because of her musical talents (piano and flute) that she was entered in the Miss America contest in 1946 and came out with a $5,000 scholarship in music, but professionally she hasn't tinkled a piano note or tootled a toot on the flute in years.

"I may not have worked at it professionally," she says, "but I've been practicing right along, hoping that some day I'd be forgotten as Miss America and remembered as the musician I was.

"I think, maybe, that time is coming. I've been asked to record a piano album for MGM Records, and I'm working at it."

ACTUALLY SHE'S working at many things, not the least of which is an old project conceived in the hope of discouraging those interminable appraisals of her facial qualities at public gatherings.

"Ah-h-h, she's not so beautiful," Bess requently overhears wherever there are women who can't forget she was once leading belle of the Atlantic City pageant.

"When I hear something like that, I have to bite my tongue to keep from saying, 'Yes, but I can DO things,' " said Bess.

A superfluous remark, we'd say. In "The Big Payoff" each day, Bess exhibits a bright TV personality without being too toothsomely bright—an uncommon achievement. Also she has demonstrated in summer stock, during her annual vacations away from "Payoff," that she's capable of dramatic interpretation.

And on the panel of "I've Got a Secret," she regularly proves that she can play games with the best of them.

By remaining with "The Big Payoff" these many years, Bess reveals one further attribute—practicality.

" 'Payoff,' " she says, "has afforded me the luxury of exploring other avenues of show business. It's also a challenge. If helping to keep a TV show alive for eight years isn't a challenge, then I don't know what is!"

CBS RESOLVED the matter of Arthur Godfrey's replacements during his hospitalization by awarding the morning television shows to Sam Levenson and the radio shows to Robert Q. Lewis.

Because of a commitment in Florida last weekend, Levenson was unable to start until Wednesday, so Jack Sterling was called on to fill in the Monday and Tuesday gap.

It was with mixed feelings, incidentally, that Levenson accepted the job.

"I'm both sad and happy," he said. "I'm glad to have been chosen, but I'm sorry it had to happen this way. If Arthur called this minute and said he would be back on the show Wednesday, I'd throw a party."

The Levenson shows will vary from the Godfrey shows in that they'll be strictly conversational, "some humorous, some deadly serious." There also will be a studio audience and Levenson intends to urge members of the audience to put in their 2 cents now and then.

ALAN LADD, who put his son, David, to work last year, also has a working daughter—Alana, 16, who's reported to her father's Jaguar Productions for an acting assignment. . . .

Final pair of "Milton Berle Shows" will include taped repeats of highlights from two previously aired shows, one with Tallulah Bankhead (next Wednesday), the other with Carl Sandburg (May 13). . . .

Red Skelton's sponsor renewed for next season. . . .

TV stations in different sections of the country report film libraries of pre-1948 features big enough to last from one to three years, meaning we'll be seeing vintage autos and flapper fashions for a while yet.

Mayor Races Featured For Salem Ballots

SALEM — Mayoralty contests on the Republican and Democratic slates and a Democratic Council-at-large race will mark the primary competition here Tuesday.

Seeking renomination to a second term, Mayor Harold D. Smith, a real estate agent, is opposed on the GOP ticket by Norman W. B. Houger, owner of a storm window and awning concern, who is making his first bid in politics.

On the Democratic slate, former Mayor Dean B. Cranmer and Paul W. Astry, operator of a dental supply firm and a former councilman, are in a race for the mayorlty nomination. Cranmer, who served from 1953-57, is a taxi driver.

Four men and a woman are after the three Council-at-large posts on the Democratic slate. They are Webb V. Goodchild, Mrs. Hilde Layton, Lloyd Morrison, James E. Feiler and Fred Koenreich, incumbent. Feiler was safety-service director under Cranmer and is in the home building business.

Incumbent Republicans seeking renomination are Mrs. Helen Coyne, city auditor; Atty. James Primm, city solicitor; Councilmen-at-large Carl C. Abe, Arthur L. Hanna and Frank Byerley; First Ward Councilman R. M. Linder; Second Ward Councilman Donald C. Cannon and Fourth Ward Councilman Ralph K. Zimmerman.

Other GOP candidates are Michael Schuller, Council president; James H. Criswell, treasurer, and Charles F. Paxon, Third Ward Council.

Democratic Third Ward Councilman Harold J. Astry is without opposition.

Other Democratic candidates unopposed are Mrs. Mary Bryan, Council president; Mrs. Mary Boals, city auditor; Mrs. Mary Gregg, treasurer; Albert Lesch, First Ward Council; Mrs. Frances Hannay, Second Ward Council, and Jack G. Hickling, Fourth Ward Council.

The Democrats have no candidate for solicitor.

State Convention Reports Received

Reports on the state convention of the Ohio Retarded Children's Association at Canton over the weekend were given at a meeting of the Columbiana County unit Tuesday night at Salem.

John Billiter of Salem, president, reported on a trip taken by delegates to the new Apple Creek institution near Canton and described the facilities.

He reported the state group took no action on hiring a full-time executive secretary, which had been proposed for discussion. The state group also aired policy concerning possible change of jurisdiction of special classes to either the welfare departments or the public schools. At present, the operation is a co-operative program.

County members discussed plans for a supplemental fund drive to provide money needed at the two special classes in the county. About 12 attended. The next meeting will be May 26 at Lisbon.

9 Candidates Initiated By Fairview Grange

Nine candidates from the Fairview and Jefferson Granges were initiated in the third and fourth degrees at a meeting of the Fairview Grange Tuesday night at the Pughtown Grange Hall.

Mrs. Harley Ferguson, degree team master, and Mrs. John Allison, degree team captain, officiated. Mrs. Jay Minor was in charge of tableaus.

Plans for selecting a "mother of the Year" at the next meeting May 12 were discussed. Lunch was served 64 by Mrs. Pearl Cullen and committee.

U.S. Forecloses $1,000 Bond County 'Wheat Rebel' Posted

CLEVELAND (AP)—The federal government has foreclosed on a bond posted by Dr. P. Scott Whiteleather of Minerva, leader of Ohio's "wheat rebels."

A $646 judgment representing two years of penalties was assessed by the government against Whiteleather for overplanting wheat quotas on his farm in Columbiana County. It includes interest, costs and fees. The $646 will be deducted from a $1,000 bond posted by the physician-farmer to regain custody of his seized automobile.

Whiteleather, president of the Independent Farmers of Ohio, appealed on the issue of the government's right to seize personal property to satisfy a wheat penalty. The Sixth Circuit U.S Court of Appeals at Cincinnati ruled against him last month and he did not carry the case further.

Seizure of the physician's automobile was the first case in Ohio that personal property had been impounded to satisfy a wheat penalty.

Assistant U.S. Atty. William J. O'Neill said the government made an example of Whiteleather.

"He was the protagonist," O'Neill said. "The government couldn't be in the position of being pushed around."

The attorney said he anticipates no drive to cash in on similar judgments.

"Liens have been filed and we will get the money when they sell," he explained. "In any event, we will not seize real estate."

Dies In Auto Wreck

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP) — Jerry Harold Church, 20, of Bethel, was killed Wednesday night in an automobile accident on Ohio 125 near Bethel. Police said Church's car struck a tree.

French, Spanish, Latin, German and Italian, in that order, are the five most popular foreign languages taught today in American high schools.

Both Parties Have Contests At Salineville

SALINEVILLE — Republican Mayor Karl Lindner's bid for renomination to a sixth term, along with a mayoralty race on the Democratic slate, will mark the only political contests in the village's primary Tuesday.

Mayor Lindner of Main St., a jewelry store operator, is opposed on the GOP ticket by Kenneth Leishman of the West End, a lumber operator.

Stanley Fitch of the West End, employe of MacCombers, Inc., at Canton, is opposed by James Pastore of the Summitville Rd., former councilman, in the Democratic mayoralty race.

Incumbent GOP Councilmen Orvel Tolson, Harold Merriner and Joseph Knight are candidates for re-election, along with Donald Lewis of Monroe Heights, a barber, and John Beadnell of Foundry Hill, an employe of the Moore Coal Co.

Incumbent Democrat Councilman John Hull is his party's sole candidate for the six Council posts.

Clerk S. R. Davis is unopposed on the GOP slate for re-nomination and Treasurer Miss Myrtle Strabley is without opposition on the Democratic ticket. The Republicans have no candidate for treasurer, and the Democrats none for clerk.

Republican candidates for the Board of Trustees of Public Affairs are the incumbents — C. R. Carter, Howard Goddard and Eugene Yohst. The Democrats have no candidates for the board.

Cubs Give Prize To 'Farm Family'

Mrs. Nelson Wright and her children won a prize for the best dressed "farm family" in a "Down-on-the-Farm" contest held when Cub Pack 12 met Tuesday night in the Trinity United Presbyterian Church.

Skits were presented by Dens 2, 4, and 5, while the entire pack participated in a presentation of the "Sante Fe Trail." Tom Snow, cubmaster, was leader.

Mrs. Lester Poe discussed a sustaining membership drive being conducted by the Columbiana Boy Scout Council. A recent visit by the pack to Harry Nichol's dairy farm at Shepherds Valley near Chester was also discussed. Plans were made to attend a "camporee" May 16.

The attendance banner was awarded Den 3 for the fourth consecutive month. Earl Locke, institutional representative, reported on an awards dinner held last week at Beaver Local High School.

Refreshments were served by Den 3. The closing ceremony was led by Den 1.

Chamber Cites BBB Warning On Chain Letter Bond Scheme

Citing an alert from the National Better Business Bureau, the Chamber of Commerce today warned East Liverpool area residents a revival of the old "chain letter" scheme that promises participants a deluge of U. S. Savings Bonds worth $51,200 at maturity.

Noting that the scheme has been reported in this area, the Chamber warned that it has been declared a violation of the postal lottery and fraud laws, leaving participants open to a penitentiary sentence or a heavy fine.

The warning from the BBB, with which the Chamber is affiliated, declared:

"For over three years, a chain letter scheme promising a sure-fire fortune in savings bonds has been tempting the get-rich-quick public. For an investment of only $37.50 in two $25 Savings Bonds, participants are assured of receiving a deluge of $25 bonds in a few days. They are told they can expect to receive bonds purchased for a total of $38,400, which will be worth $51,200 at maturity in 10 years."

It added: "In an apparent effort to circumvent the postal lottery laws, participants are told that the chain letters must be sold person-to-person. However, the Post Office Department has stated that the scheme violates the postal lottery and fraud laws. The Post Office Department's general counsel has ruled that it makes no difference whether the lists of participants are circulated through the mails or pass from hand to hand; as long as the money, bonds or receipts are mailed, the scheme is illegal."

The BBB also pointed out that the Treasury Department condemned the plan as its inception as "contrary to the intended purpose in issuing savings bonds." Although some promoters seek to imply that the government approves of the idea in order to increase bond sales, the Treasury Department has asked banks to reject applications for purchase of savings bonds where the applicant says, or where the issuing agent has reason to believe, that the bonds will be used in the chain letter scheme.

Area residents were asked to report to the Chamber any instances of chain letters on the bond scheme.

Out Of The Air

By MARIE TORRE

More Than Just Beautiful

That subterranean area known as daytime television sheltered comfortably, among other seekers of tranquilizing TV, former beauty queen Bess Myerson, who appears to be ready for some professional thrills.

Marie Torre

After eight years of awarding mink coats to contestants on "The Big Payoff," Bess again is thinking of music, which you may remember was her first love. It was partially because of her musical talents (piano and flute) that she was entered in the Miss America contest in 1946 and came out with a $5,000 scholarship in music, but professionally she hasn't tinkled a piano note or tootled a toot on the flute in years.

"I may not have worked at it professionally," she says, "but I've been practicing right along, hoping that some day I'd be forgotten as Miss America and remembered as the musician I was.

"I think, maybe, that time is coming. I've been asked to record a piano album for MGM Records, and I'm working at it."

ACTUALLY SHE'S working at many things, not the least of which is an old project conceived in the hope of discouraging those interminable appraisals of her facial qualities at public gatherings.

"Ah-h-h, she's not so beautiful," Bess requently overhears wherever there are women who can't forget she was once leading belle of the Atlantic City pageant.

"When I hear something like that, I have to bite my tongue to keep from saying, 'Yes, but I can DO things,' " said Bess.

A superfluous remark, we'd say.

In "The Big Payoff" each day, Bess exhibits a bright TV personality without being too toothsomely bright—an uncommon achievement. Also she has demonstrated in summer stock, during her annual vacations away from "Payoff," that she's capable of dramatic interpretation.

And on the panel of "I've Got a Secret," she regularly proves that she can play games with the best of them.

By remaining with "The Big Payoff" these many years, Bess reveals one further attribute—practicality.

" 'Payoff,' " she says, "has afforded me the luxury of exploring other avenues of show business. It's also a challenge. If helping to keep a TV show alive for eight years isn't a challenge, then I don't know what is!"

CBS RESOLVED the matter of Arthur Godfrey's replacements during his hospitalization by awarding the morning television shows to Sam Levenson and the radio shows to Robert Q. Lewis.

Because of a commitment in Florida last weekend, Levenson was unable to start until Wednesday, so Jack Sterling was called on to fill in the Monday and Tuesday gap.

It was with mixed feelings, incidentally, that Levenson accepted the job.

"I'm both sad and happy," he said. "I'm glad to have been chosen, but I'm sorry it had to happen this way. If Arthur called this minute and said he would be back on the show Wednesday, I'd throw a party."

The Levenson shows will vary from the Godfrey shows in that they'll be strictly conversational, "some humorous, some deadly serious." There also will be a studio audience and Levenson intends to urge members of the audience to put in their 2 cents now and then.

ALAN LADD, who put his son, David, to work last year, also has a working daughter—Alana, 16, who's reported to her father's Jaguar Productions for an acting assignment. . . .

Final pair of "Milton Berle Shows" will include taped repeats of highlights from two previously aired shows, one with Tallulah Bankhead (next Wednesday), the other with Carl Sandburg (May 13). . . .

Red Skelton's sponsor renewed for next season. . . .

TV stations in different sections of the country report film libraries of pre-1948 features big enough to last from one to three years, meaning we'll be seeing vintage autos and flapper fashions for a while yet.

Mayor Races Featured For Salem Ballots

SALEM — Mayoralty contests on the Republican and Democratic slates and a Democratic Council-at-large race will mark the primary competition here Tuesday.

Seeking renomination to a second term, Mayor Harold D. Smith, a real estate agent, is opposed on the GOP ticket by Norman W. B. Houger, owner of a storm window and awning concern, who is making his first bid in politics.

On the Democratic slate, former Mayor Dean B. Cranmer and Paul W. Astry, operator of a dental supply firm and a former councilman, are in a race for the mayorlty nomination. Cranmer, who served from 1953-57, is a taxi driver.

Four men and a woman are after the three Council-at-large posts on the Democratic slate. They are Webb V. Goodchild, Mrs. Hilde Layton, Lloyd Morrison, James E. Feiler and Fred Koenreich, incumbent. Feiler was safety-service director under Cranmer and is in the home building business.

Incumbent Republicans seeking renomination are Mrs. Helen Coyne, city auditor; Atty. James Primm, city solicitor; Councilmen-at-large Carl C. Abe, Arthur L. Hanna and Frank Byerley; First Ward Councilman R. M. Linder; Second Ward Councilman Donald C. Cannon and Fourth Ward Councilman Ralph K. Zimmerman.

Other GOP candidates are Michael Schuller, Council president; James H. Criswell, treasurer, and Charles F. Paxon, Third Ward Council.

Democratic Third Ward Councilman Harold J. Astry is without opposition.

Other Democratic candidates unopposed are Mrs. Mary Bryan, Council president; Mrs. Mary Boals, city auditor; Mrs. Mary Gregg, treasurer; Albert Lesch, First Ward Council; Mrs. Frances Hannay, Second Ward Council, and Jack G. Hickling, Fourth Ward Council.

The Democrats have no candidate for solicitor.

State Convention Reports Received

Reports on the state convention of the Ohio Retarded Children's Association at Canton over the weekend were given at a meeting of the Columbiana County unit Tuesday night at Salem.

John Billiter of Salem, president, reported on a trip taken by delegates to the new Apple Creek institution near Canton and described the facilities.

He reported the state group took no action on hiring a full-time executive secretary, which had been proposed for discussion. The state group also aired policy concerning possible change of jurisdiction of special classes to either the welfare departments or the public schools. At present, the operation is a co-operative program.

County members discussed plans for a supplemental fund drive to money needed at the two special classes in the county. About 12 attended. The next meeting will be May 26 at Lisbon.

9 Candidates Initiated By Fairview Grange

Nine candidates from the Fairview and Jefferson Granges were initiated in the third and fourth degrees at a meeting of the Fairview Grange Tuesday night at the Pughtown Grange Hall.

Mrs. Harley Ferguson, degree team master, and Mrs. John Allison, degree team captain, officiated. Mrs. Jay Minor was in charge of tableaus.

Plans for selecting a "mother of the Year" at the next meeting May 12 were discussed. Lunch was served 64 by Mrs. Pearl Cullen and committee.

U.S. Forecloses $1,000 Bond County 'Wheat Rebel' Posted

CLEVELAND (AP)—The federal government has foreclosed on a bond posted by Dr. P. Scott Whiteleather of Minerva, leader of Ohio's "wheat rebels."

A $646 judgment representing two years of penalties was assessed by the government against Whiteleather for overplanting wheat quotas on his farm in Columbiana County. It includes interest, costs and fees. The $646 will be deducted from a $1,000 bond posted by the physician-farmer to regain custody of his seized automobile.

Whiteleather, president of the Independent Farmers of Ohio, appealed on the issue of the government's right to seize personal property to satisfy a wheat penalty. The Sixth Circuit U.S Court of Appeals at Cincinnati ruled against him last month and he did not carry the case further.

Seizure of the physician's automobile was the first case in Ohio that personal property had been impounded to satisfy a wheat penalty.

Assistant U.S. Atty. William J. O'Neill said the government made an example of Whiteleather.

"He was the protagonist," O'Neill said. "The government couldn't be in the position of being pushed around."

The attorney said he anticipates no drive to cash in on similar judgments.

"Liens have been filed and we will get the money when they sell," he explained. "In any event, we will not seize real estate."

Both Parties Have Contests At Salineville

SALINEVILLE — Republican Mayor Karl Lindner's bid for renomination to a sixth term, along with a mayoralty race on the Democratic slate, will mark the only political contests in the village's primary Tuesday.

Mayor Lindner of Main St., a jewelry store operator, is opposed on the GOP ticket by Kenneth Leishman of the West End, a lumber operator.

Stanley Fitch of the West End, employe of MacCombers, Inc., at Canton, is opposed by James Pastore of the Summitville Rd., former councilman, in the Democratic mayoralty race.

Incumbent GOP Councilmen Orvel Tolson, Harold Merriner and Joseph Knight are candidates for re-election, along with Donald Lewis of Monroe Heights, a barber, and John Beadnell of Foundry Hill, an employe of the Moore Coal Co.

Incumbent Democrat Councilman John Hull is his party's sole candidate for the six Council posts.

Clerk S. R. Davis is unopposed on the GOP slate for re-nomination and Treasurer Miss Myrtle Strabley is without opposition on the Democratic ticket. The Republicans have no candidate for treasurer, and the Democrats none for clerk.

Republican candidates for the Board of Trustees of Public Affairs are the incumbents — C. R. Carter, Howard Goddard and Eugene Yohst. The Democrats have no candidates for the board.

Cubs Give Prize To 'Farm Family'

Mrs. Nelson Wright and her children won a prize for the best dressed "farm family" in a "Down-on-the-Farm" contest held when Cub Pack 12 met Tuesday night in the Trinity United Presbyterian Church.

Skits were presented by Dens 2, 4, and 5, while the entire pack participated in a presentation of the "Sante Fe Trail." Tom Snow, cubmaster, was leader.

Mrs. Lester Poe discussed a sustaining membership drive being conducted by the Columbiana Boy Scout Council. A recent visit by the pack to Harry Nichol's dairy farm at Shepherds Valley near Chester was also discussed. Plans were made to attend a "camporee" May 16.

The attendance banner was awarded Den 3 for the fourth consecutive month. Earl Locke, institutional representative, reported on an awards dinner held last week at Beaver Local High School.

Refreshments were served by Den 3. The closing ceremony was led by Den 1.

Chamber Cites BBB Warning On Chain Letter Bond Scheme

Citing an alert from the National Better Business Bureau, the Chamber of Commerce today warned East Liverpool area residents a revival of the old "chain letter" scheme that promises participants a deluge of U. S. Savings Bonds worth $51,200 at maturity.

Noting that the scheme has been reported in this area, the Chamber warned that it has been declared a violation of the postal lottery and fraud laws, leaving participants open to a penitentiary sentence or a heavy fine.

The warning from the BBB, with which the Chamber is affiliated, declared:

"For over three years, a chain letter scheme promising a sure-fire fortune in savings bonds has been tempting the get-rich-quick public. For an investment of only $37.50 in two $25 Savings Bonds, participants are assured of receiving a deluge of $25 bonds in a few days. They are told they can expect to receive bonds purchased for a total of $38,400, which will be worth $51,200 at maturity in 10 years."

It added: "In an apparent effort to circumvent the postal lottery laws, participants are told that the chain letters must be sold person-to-person. However, the Post Office Department has stated that the scheme violates the postal lottery and fraud laws. The Post Office Department's general counsel has ruled that it makes no difference whether the lists of participants are circulated through the mails or pass from hand to hand; as long as the money, bonds or receipts are mailed, the scheme is illegal."

The BBB also pointed out that the Treasury Department condemned the plan as its inception as "contrary to the intended purpose in issuing savings bonds." Although some promoters seek to imply that the government approves of the idea in order to increase bond sales, the Treasury Department has asked banks to reject applications for purchase of savings bonds where the applicant says, or where the issuing agent has reason to believe, that the bonds will be used in the chain letter scheme.

Area residents were asked to report to the Chamber any instances of chain letters on the bond scheme.

150 Million Korea Bonus Waits Gov. Lawrence Okay

HARRISBURG — The $150,000,000 Korean Bonus Bill was passed finally by the House Wednesday and will be sent to Gov. David L. Lawrence next week for signature.

The governor said he will sign the measure as soon as it reaches his desk.

It can be expected by veterans of the Korean conflict that they can make application for the bonus, which carries a $500 maximum payment, in about six months. Col. William B. Freeland, deputy adjutant general for veterans affairs, said there are about 400,000 Pennsylvanians eligible to file.

"After the governor signs the bill, at least two months must lapse before the bond issue can be sold," Col. Freeland explained. "Then, here in the Department of Military Affairs, we have to set up a completely new processing machinery to receive and pay the applications."

Col. Freeland said applications will be distrubuted through the local posts of various veterans organizations and through the country directors of veterans affairs.

Just how much each veteran may receive depends upon individual service records. The eligibility period begins June 25, 1950, and ends July 27, 1953. There is a six-month extension of eligibility for payments however, for veterans in service 60 days prior to July 27, 1953.

Some "regulars" who were in service may not be eligible at all. The career service men who were in uniform four years prior to June 25, 1950, must prove that they were residents of Pennsylvania at the time they went into service, that they maintained residence in the Commonwealth until July 8, 1957, and must have been awarded the Korean Service Medal.

The bonus is to be paid at a rate of $10 a month for domestic service and service in areas other than the combat zone and $15 a month for time within the combat zone. Award of the Korean Service Medal will determine combat duty.

Payments are expected to average less than the amounts paid for service in World War II, since the period of conflict was shorter. After World War II, the payments in Pennsylvania averaged $323.66.

Survivors of men who were killed in action in Korea will be paid the full $500.

Sprenz In Texas Jail Is Awaiting Transfer To Ohio

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A man charged with taking $25,955 in a Hamilton, Ohio, bank robbery in March is in the Harris County Jail today, awaiting transfer to Ohio.

Frank Lawrence Sprenz, 29, was brought here from Laredo, Tex., where Mexican authorities surrendered him to a deputy U.S. marshal on April 15.

Mexican security police arrested Sprenz while he was fishing near a Yucatan resort.

Mrs. Kathryn Matthews, chief deputy U.S. marshal, would not say when Sprenz will be transferred from Houston to Ohio. Departmental regulations, she said, prevent her from releasing such information.

Federal officials said a charge of unlawful flight to avoid prosecution was filed against Sprenz after he escaped from an Akron, Ohio, jail while awaiting trial on a charge of robbing an Akron cafe of $1,490.

U.S. Calls Off 'High' Flights Into Berlin

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has tentatively decided to send no more high-altitude planes to West Berlin — for the next few weeks.

Some officials were urging today a review of this decision in the light of a new Soviet challenge. The Soviet Union disputed again Wednesday the American view that such flights are perfectly legal.

Most authorities appeared ready however, to stand by the temporary ban to avoid further controversy in advance of meetings with the Soviet Union.

The temporary halt was decided upon last week jointly by the State and Defense departments in a confidential review.

They took the decision mainly because of Britain's misgivings that further flights above the 10,000-foot level might look as if the West were deliberately trying to provoke an incident which might torpedo East-West talks on the future of Berlin and Germany.

50 More Called As Prospective Jurors In Trial

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Fifty more prospective jurors have been ordered into court today, and possibly some will be selected to weigh the fate of 21-year-old David Stanley Smith, charged with the slaying and attempted rape of an expectant mother.

The victim was Mrs. Janice Ora Porter, 24, a neighbor of Smith. Mrs. Porter was shot once through the forehead while tied up, blindfolded and gagged, after her assailant attempted to rape her, authorities said.

Later that day, Dec. 16, her father-in-law found her body, still trussed, lying on a bed.

The child she was to have borne in a few days—her first—died with her.

The defendant, who has admitted the slaying, pleaded innocent by reason of insanity at his first-degree murder trial, now in its fourth day.

Eleven jurors have been tentatively seated.

With only 20 of the original 75-member venire still to be considered for jury seats, Common Pleas Judge Kenneth L. Sater ordered 50 more prospective jurors to appear for service today.

Remedy For Financial Woes

Many States Boost Taxes

By CHARLES STAFFORD
Associated Press Writer

"Maybe," an eastern Kentucky civic leader said, "we should secede from the United States and apply for foreign aid."

He was discussing remedies for the ailing economy of his area, where mechanization and depression in the coal industry have caused widespread unemployment.

The secession proposal was delivered tongue-in-cheek, but many a state official would get the point. A check of state capitals by The Associated Press indicates that 29 states are encountering some measure of financial difficulty today.

Higher taxes are the common remedy.

Cigarettes are a favorite target of the revenue hunters of 1959. Sales and income tax increases also are common.

Withholding plans for state income taxes, which increase revenue by cornerning tax dodgers, have been adopted by Utah, Massachusetts, South Carolina, and New York. Five more states are seriously considering them.

Some tax programs have been whoppers.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle of Ohio has presented the Legislature with plans to increase cigarette, beer, corporation franchise, gasoline and diesel fuel taxes. Sales taxes are to be upped to produce some 199 million dollars in the next two years. Adopted without change, DiSalle's program would produce 360 million dollars in new revenue in the next two years.

New York raised its tax revenue 239 million dollars. The Pennsylvania Legislature is studying Gov. David L. Lawrence's proposal for an additional 237 million in taxes to balance the record-breaking biennial budget of $1,907,000,000. The lawmakers have already raised the 3 per cent sales tax to 3½ per cent, making it second only to Washington state's 4 per cent.

Getting a new tax program approved isn't an easy matter. The Minnesota Legislature adjourned April 24 after 3½ months of work without finding the 84 million dollars needed to balance Gov. Orville L. Freeman's proposed 470,-million-dollar budget.

The governor, who has recommended increases in liquor, cigarette, tobacco, iron ore, gifts, inheritances and income taxes, called the lawmakers back into special session the very next day to finish the job.

In Massachusetts, Gov. Foster Furcolo's efforts to balance his 456-million-dollar budget have touched off a fight within his Democratic party. He proposed that the Democratic-controlled Legislature enact a sales tax.

However, the No. 1 plank in the Democrats' campaign platform was a stand against the sales tax.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown of California, a Democrat, has asked a politically friendly Legislature to tax cigarettes, oil and gas and increase taxes on horse racing, beer and income to provide 256 million dollars in new revenue. His headache: a rapidly expanding deficit.

In Georgia, economy is the word. Gov. Ernest Vandiver, who ran on a platform of no new taxes unless absolutely necessary, ordered state departments to reduce their operating expenses by 10 per cent during the final quarter of the fiscal year, which ends June 30. The Legislature economized by elimination and consolidation of several agencies.

The governor is holding a tight rein on budget requests. He has a committee studying government reorganization and economy. And he has ordered a crackdown on loose practices in the purchasing and tax departments where there have been irregularities in recent years.

Oklahoma, where Gov. J. Howard Edmondson is trimming the fat from the state payroll and cutting other state expenses, solved part of its revenue problem in an old - fashioned away. Its citizens voted the repeal of prohibition.

Sometimes the answer to a state's financial worries is heavensent. North Dakota is entering the new biemium with a 10 - million-dollar surplus, thanks to last year's fine crop harvest.

Heedless Or Headless

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Police saw a human head atop a small foreign automobile. Officer C. P. Kelecva stopped it. The driver, a sailor, said he stuck his head through a sunport just to look around. He was convicted of reckless driving.

Beaver Court Fines 3 In Variety Of Cases

Beaver County Courts Wednesday fined two Midland residents and one from East Palestine.

Michael Varkonda of Midland, accused of lottery, was ordered to pay costs and fined $300 or spend 60 to 120 days in jail.

Delores Pogue of Midland, convicted of assault and battery, was given 23 months in jail, ordered to pay costs and fined $1. She may petition for a parole within 60 days.

Charles F. Fisher of East Palestine was fined $150 and given 3 years' probation for operating a vehicle while intoxicated and for failure to stop. His driving rights were suspended for a year.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown of California, a Democrat, has asked a politically friendly Legislature to tax cigarettes, oil and gas and increase taxes on horse racing, beer and income to provide 256 million dollars in new revenue. His headache: a rapidly expanding deficit.

In Georgia, economy is the word. Gov. Ernest Vandiver, who ran on a platform of no new taxes unless absolutely necessary, ordered state departments to reduce their operating expenses by 10 per cent during the final quarter of the fiscal year, which ends June 30. The Legislature economized by elimination and consolidation of several agencies.

The governor is holding a tight rein on budget requests. He has a committee studying government reorganization and economy. And he has ordered a crackdown on loose practices in the purchasing and tax departments where there have been irregularities in recent years.

Oklahoma, where Gov. J. Howard Edmondson is trimming the fat from the state payroll and cutting other state expenses, solved part of its revenue problem in an old - fashioned away. Its citizens voted the repeal of prohibition.

Sometimes the answer to a state's financial worries is heavensent. North Dakota is entering the new biennium with a 10 - million-dollar surplus, thanks to last year's fine crop harvest.

Heedless Or Headless

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Police saw a human head atop a small foreign automobile. Officer C. P. Kelecva stopped it. The driver, a sailor, said he stuck his head through a sunport just to look around. He was convicted of reckless driving.

Beaver Court Fines 3 In Variety Of Cases

Beaver County Courts Wednesday fined two Midland residents and one from East Palestine.

Michael Varkonda of Midland, accused of lottery, was ordered to pay costs and fined $300 or spend 60 to 120 days in jail.

Delores Pogue of Midland, convicted of assault and battery, was given 23 months in jail, ordered to pay costs and fined $1. She may petition for a parole within 60 days.

Charles F. Fisher of East Palestine was fined $150 and given 3 years' probation for operating a vehicle while intoxicated and for failure to stop. His driving rights were suspended for a year.

50 At Regional Meeting For Episcopal Auxiliary

Some 50 members and guests attended the Ohio Valley Regional meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to the Protestant Episcopal Church Tuesday at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church.

The sacrament of Holy Communion was celebrated at 10:30 by the Rev. Marc Anton Nocerino, rector, assisted by the Rev. Richard Wertz, rector of St. Paul's church of Steubenville.

Mrs. Ronald Mason was organist during a memorial service for deceased members of the region.

Mrs. Frank J. Mitcheson, president of the local Women's Council, extended the welcome to open the business meeting at the Parish House.

Mrs. William Hales conducted the worship service.

Mrs. W. E. Dunlap Jr., regional chairman, presided for business.

Departmental reports were given and the nominating committee presented committees which were elected.

They included Miss Marian Renfrew of Steubenville St. Paul's, periodical club; Mrs. James Kumbra, Steubenville St. Paul's, worship chairman; Mrs. Clifford Hindley, missionaries supply; Mrs. Charles Larcombe, regional treasurer, chairman, and Mrs. Lewis Bates, Steubenville St. Stephen's, Mrs. John Kirk, Steubenville St. Paul's, Mrs. Albert Beech, Wellsville Church of the Ascension and Mrs. Hindley, finance committee, to handle financial affairs and allocate money for projects.

Mrs. Edward B. Purcell of Youngstown, guest speaker, used "The Ministry of the Laity" as her subject and explained the by-laws which will be submitted at the annual meeting May 19-20 at Trinity Cathedral in Cleveland.

Luncheon was served by women of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church with Mrs. Stanley Rose as chairman.

A "Middle-East" decor predominated for the tables in keeping with the study book topic for the auxiliary.

The Rev. Thomas Paleman, rector of Steubenville St. Stephen's, gave the invocation and Rev. Wertz gave the benediction.

Wives Continue Roadblocks 3rd Day In Strike

OKMULGEE, Okla. (AP) — Roadblocks will be continued for the third day today by wives of striking Phillips Petroleum Co. workers.

The women, ignoring pleas by their husbands and union leaders to "go home," have stopped at least 25 refinery tank trucks at three access roads to the refinery.

The strike by 103 Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers members is now in its 76th day.

Only two trucks have maneuvered through the blockade since Tuesday.

The women started their blockades 100 yards from the plant after the union denied their request for permission to join the picket lines at refinery gates.

"We're not trying to be smart or show up our husbands," said one of the women. "We merely feel that after 2½ months, something must be done to try to bring the company to terms."

The strike started in February after negotiations on a new contract collapsed.

Ramp Dynamited In Outbreak Of Strike Violence

WHITESBURG, Ky. (AP) — A nonunion coal loading ramp was dynamited Wednesday night during one of the heaviest outbreaks of violence since the United Mine Workers strike began in eastern Kentucky.

Earlier in the day another ramp was dynamited and guards at a mine exchanged more than 200 shots with hidden snipers.

Paul Tayloe, co-owner of the Ulvah Coal Co., where the latest blast occurred, said union pickets held two railroad cars entering the ramp and tossed dynamite under the tipple.

One guard at the ramp received a slight leg injury. Another man on the ramp was unhurt.

Tayloe and his partner M. W. Ritchie said the ramp would operate today.

Tayloe has been one of the leaders of resistance to UMW demands during the 53-day-old strike.

The union is striking over a new contract calling for a $2 daily wage increase to a basic $24.25 and a restrictive clause forbidding operators to handle nonunion coal.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Rhythm Session Aids Tubby Teens

To banish bulges, loosen up with fancy free rhythms set to music. Come on—don't be a square. Exercise is wonderfully freeing if you let the motions flow from one to another in a rhythmic pattern.

Ida Jean Kain

That's what dancing is — a pattern set to music. Today's streamliners give a lift and will open your eyes your feet. That's the dancers' technique. To keep shoulders free and easy, have arms arched overhead, not stretched tautly.

Turn on a slow tune, arch arms overhead, and pull up snugly through the midsection—bend to the right and to the left. Centering the up-pull through the entire midriff helps you to be light on to what fun exercise can be.

NOW A toe-touching step forward—touch, step and circle alternate arms backward, pulling shoulders smoothly into line as you step forward. Again lift with the middle muscles, keeping the control there.

The rhythm is touch, step, circling arm backward...now touch, step with the other foot, circling other arm backward, gliding the length of the room. Reverse, stepping backward and swinging alternate arms, then both arms in wide, rhythmic backward circles.

Now for a definite swing and sway. Standing, arms arched overhead, sway to the side, and continuing the motion, swing arms downward, around and up to the other side.

At that point, add an extra reach, going up on toes, pulling high and slim. Swing from one side to the other, each time coming up on a high note. Always keep midsection muscles pulled up.

To increase the side bend, get some knee action. Standing with feet wide apart, arms arched overhead, sway to the right, and as you sway let the right knee bend ...sway away over. Now swing up and over in the other direction, this time bending the knee on that side.

As you swing sidewards, let one foot come almost off the floor, and then with a flowing movement, swing up and over to the other side. It's ever so freeing. Keep your head up and chest lifted and put the action through the lateral muscles which bound the side of the figure.

IF NO MUSIC is handy, then just set your own rhythm, but keep the motions flowing. This free-wheeling action pulls off the bulges.

Come on, teenagers! Exercise is fun, freeing and streamlining. Never miss a day.

Send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for illustrated exercise leaflet entitled "For A Slimmer Midriff." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, care of this newspaper. Post card requests can not be answered.

Berry Group To Air Season Market Plans

LISBON — The executive committee of the Columbiana-Mahoning County Berry Growers Association will meet Monday night at the home of John Ferguson, north of Salem, according to Floyd Lower, county extension agent.

Plans will be made for the marketing of the berry crop of the area for this season. A labor saving equipment demonstration will be held May 19, at the Virgil Yaeger farm, southeast of Salem, where the marketing program will be discussed further.

Bolivia has two capitals. One is La Paz, the working seat of the republic. The other is Sucre, the official capital and headquarters of the country's supreme court.

Storage Space Needed In Crop Price Support

A call to "check your storage" was issued today to all farmers who intend putting any of their 1959 crops under the price-support program.

G. M. Swick, chairman of the Beaver County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, pointed out that the price-support program means nothing to the farmer who has no adequate place in which to store his crop.

Crops under loan must be stored in approved facilities—either commercial or on the farm, and good storage is also essential for a crop covered by a purchase agreement if the crop is to meet eligibility requirements for later purchase by the government under the support program.

To help farmers meet their grain storage needs, Commodity Credit Corp. loans are available through the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation offices, which may provide up to 80 per cent of new bins. Loans may also be obtained for the purchase of of drying equipment necessary to condition the grain for storage.

Farmers who believe that they may need additional grain storage this year are urged to visit their local Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office and obtain further details about the assistance available.

Hancock Women Back From Training Session

Two Hancock County women have returned from a Home Demonstration Leadership Training Conference at the State 4-H Camp at Jacksons Mill.

Miss Helen Petrakis, county 4-H agent, and Mrs. Floyd R. Grimes of the Oakland Farm Women's Club attended the session held April 20-April 24 for the purpose of training home demonstration leaders in extension work in 19 subjects and 9 workshops.

The theme of the conference was "This We Can Do—For Ourselves In West Virginia." Over 360 leaders from 43 counties and 2 foreign countries attended.

Railroad ties, the wooden beams on which the steel tracks are laid, cost an average of $3 each.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY MEYERS

Teacher Also Can Instruct Parents

You who teach our children do a good job, as a ruie, educating them in citizenship. You could do a much better job, however, if we sent you children who had been better disciplined at home before they started school, who are still wisely guided and controlled at home while attending school. I believe that you who teach our children have an opportunity to help check juvenile delinquency in ways you have rarely, if ever, followed. Your chief concern has been with the children's behavior while they are in school.

By Garry Meyers

You should grow more concerned about what parents might do to send to school children who are well disciplined at home, especially before they enter kindergarten or the first grade.

—:—

PRACTICALLY ALL you teachers believe, so far as I can ascertain, that you could do a better teaching job if children had more self - control. You also believe that self - control in the school child presupposes that he has been sufficiently controlled earlier, especially in his preschool years.

Believe it or not, parents of preschool children are generally eager to have you teachers tell them what they might wisely emphasize in guiding and managing their children at home.

When you meet young parents at the market, at the P.T.A. and other community gatherings, remind them of their obligation to prepare their preschool youngsters for an education.

You teachers should remind parents that they are in a strategic position to help curb juvenile delinquency. Tell them, therefore, to begin teaching obedience while their children are very young.

—:—

REMIND THESE young parents that, of course, they are going to give the child lots of love and affection; and that one of the surest ways to love him is to train him effectively in the alphabet of obedience.

Imagine what a powerful force this would be for furthering character and citizenship in children if more teachers were to seize this opportunity.

Whipping Due For Robbers In Delaware

DOVER, Del. (AP)—Delaware's Legislature, concerned by an increase in the crime rate, has passed a bill making whipping mandatory for people convicted of robbery.

The bill says: 20 to 40 lashes for the first offense and not less than 30 for each subsequent conviction.

The House passed the Senate version Wednesday 22-3. Gov. J. Caleb Boggs, however, declined comment when asked what he thought of the bill.

He said he would decide early next week about signing it.

If he does sign, it will be the first time in the history of the state that whipping has been mandatory punishment for a crime.

In the old days whipping was used to punish wife beating, theft and a variety of other crimes, but it was always imposed at the discretion of the judge. The present sentence for robbery for example, is a fine of not less than $500 and imprisonment for 3 to 25 years, plus not more than 40 lashes if the judge wishes.

For seven years there have been no official whippings in Delaware.

The original production of "Floradora" ("Tell Me Pretty Maiden, Are There Any More at Home Like You") played for eight years in American theaters.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Rhythm Session Aids Tubby Teens

To banish bulges, loosen up with fancy free rhythms set to music. Come on—don't be a square. Exercise is wonderfully freeing if you let the motions flow from one to another in a rhythmic pattern.

Ida Jean Kain

That's what dancing is — a pattern set to music. Today's streamliners give a lift and will open your eyes your feet. That's the dancers' technique. To keep shoulders free and easy, have arms arched overhead, not stretched tautly.

Turn on a slow tune, arch arms overhead, and pull up snugly through the midsection—bend to the right and to the left. Centering the up-pull through the entire midriff helps you to be light on to what fun exercise can be.

NOW A toe-touching step forward—touch, step and circle alternate arms backward, pulling shoulders smoothly into line as you step forward. Again lift with the middle muscles, keeping the control there.

The rhythm is touch, step, circling arm backward...now touch, step with the other foot, circling other arm backward, gliding the length of the room. Reverse, stepping backward and swinging alternate arms, then both arms in wide, rhythmic backward circles.

Now for a definite swing and sway. Standing, arms arched overhead, sway to the side, and continuing the motion, swing arms downward, around and up to the other side.

At that point, add an extra reach, going up on toes, pulling high and slim. Swing from one side to the other, each time coming up on a high note. Always keep midsection muscles pulled up.

To increase the side bend, get some knee action. Standing with feet wide apart, arms arched overhead, sway to the right, and as you sway let the right knee bend ...sway away over. Now swing up and over in the other direction, this time bending the knee on that side.

As you swing sidewards, let one foot come almost off the floor, and then with a flowing movement, swing up and over to the other side. It's ever so freeing. Keep your head up and chest lifted and put the action through the lateral muscles which bound the side of the figure.

IF NO MUSIC is handy, then just set your own rhythm, but keep the motions flowing. This free-wheeling action pulls off the bulges.

Come on, teenagers! Exercise is fun, freeing and streamlining. Never miss a day.

Send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for illustrated exercise leaflet entitled "For A Slimmer Midriff." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, care of this newspaper. Post card requests can not be answered.

Storage Space Needed In Crop Price Support

A call to "check your storage" was issued today to all farmers who intend putting any of their 1959 crops under the price-support program.

G. M. Swick, chairman of the Beaver County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, pointed out that the price-support program means nothing to the farmer who has no adequate place in which to store his crop.

Crops under loan must be stored in approved facilities—either commercial or on the farm, and good storage is also essential for a crop covered by a purchase agreement if the crop is to meet eligibility requirements for later purchase by the government under the support program.

To help farmers meet their grain storage needs, Commodity Credit Corp. loans are available through the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation offices, which may provide up to 80 per cent of new bins. Loans may also be obtained for the purchase of of drying equipment necessary to condition the grain for storage.

Farmers who believe that they may need additional grain storage this year are urged to visit their local Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office and obtain further details about the assistance available.

Hancock Women Back From Training Session

Two Hancock County women have returned from a Home Demonstration Leadership Training Conference at the State 4-H Camp at Jacksons Mill.

Miss Helen Petrakis, county 4-H agent, and Mrs. Floyd R. Grimes of the Oakland Farm Women's Club attended the session held April 20-April 24 for the purpose of training home demonstration leaders in extension work in 19 subjects and 9 workshops.

The theme of the conference was "This We Can Do—For Ourselves In West Virginia." Over 360 leaders from 43 counties and 2 foreign countries attended.

Railroad ties, the wooden beams on which the steel tracks are laid, cost an average of $3 each.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY MEYERS

Teacher Also Can Instruct Parents

You who teach our children do a good job, as a rule, educating them in citizenship. You could do a much better job, however, if we sent you children who had been better disciplined at home before they started school, who are still wisely guided and controlled at home while attending school. I believe that you who teach our children have an opportunity to help check juvenile delinquency in ways you have rarely, if ever, followed. Your chief concern has been with the children's behavior while they are in school.

Closing Arguments Set In Murder Trial

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Closing arguments by prosecuting and defense attorneys today wind up their respective cases in the first-degree murder trial of Ralph Woodgeard.

A three-judge panel then must decide if the 39-year-old defendant is innocent or guilty of shooting and knifing his brother, Orville, 38, as the prosecution charges.

Woodgeard's plea of innocent by reason of insanity is backed by two psychiatrists from Lima State Hospital, where Woodgeard underwent observation. They testified he was apparently insane when the slaying occurred Nov. 3.

But three court-appointed psychiatrists say Woodgeard was capable of knowing right from wrong at the time of the killing.

The prosecution said it will ask for the death penalty.

Closing Arguments Set In Murder Trial

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Closing arguments by prosecuting and defense attorneys today wind up their respective cases in the first-degree murder trial of Ralph Woodgeard.

A three-judge panel then must decide if the 39-year-old defendant is innocent or guilty of shooting and knifing his brother, Orville, 38, as the prosecution charges.

Woodgeard's plea of innocent by reason of insanity is backed by two psychiatrists from Lima State Hospital, where Woodgeard underwent observation. They testified he was apparently insane when the slaying occurred Nov. 3.

But three court-appointed psychiatrists say Woodgeard was capable of knowing right from wrong at the time of the killing.

The prosecution said it will ask for the death penalty.

Big Problem In America

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — The big problem in America today is—how can the government live off everybody when everybody is trying to live off the government?

Practically every government—federal, state or local—is running short of money. They also seem to be running out of ideas for new taxes.

The City Council here, for example, has just voted a five per cent tax on restaurant checks over a dollar. The tax was voted in an atmosphere of apology to "the little man," a tacit admission that only a cigar store Indian could find a decent meal here for less than a buck.

This abject attitude of polite concern over the plight of the taxpayer, however, isn't going to enable any government to live in the style to which it wants to become accustomed.

What governments need is the courage to reach firmly into new and unplumbed areas of the public purse and pluck boldly therefrom the money it wants.

Here are a few tentative suggestions:

Why not tax pedestrians? If drivers have to fork up money to get a license to use the city streets, why shouldn't pedestrians be made to pay for the privilege of wearing out the city sidewalks?

The issuance of $10 annual pedestrian licenses would not only add millions of dollars in revenue to most big municipalities. It would enable them to weed out reckless walkers unable to pass periodic inspection tests.

Why not also sell baby buggy licenses? Why should an infant, at the very start of its existence, get the idea there are any free rides in life?

It might even be a good idea to put a $15 tax—split equally between local, state and federal governments—on birth itself, payable at the hospital by the parents before they would be allowed to take their child home.

A few other ideas:

Taxes on girl watching.

Taxes on park bench sitting. Philosophers such as Bernard Baruch might object to these, but those who use public services ought to pay at least part of the costs.

Taxes on umbrella carrying. The government might also consider compulsory liability insurance here for the victims of this vicious practice.

Taxes on the public wearing of Phi Beta Kappa keys and Rotary Club lapel buttons.

Taxes on flower pots. The only danger here is that city dwellers might choose to let their pots lie fallow, and insist on being cut in for benefits under the federal soil bank program.

Special tax stamps to be affixed to letters written to Congress complaining about taxes.

When you get right down to it, the field of taxation is practically limitless. Anyone who thinks he's seen the end of new taxes just doesn't know what lies ahead.

Such as maybe a burial tax stamp. If you tax a guy for the privilege of going underground, isn't that really an inducement to make him want to keep on living?

Post Sets Mark For Membership

Four new members of Chester American Legion Post 121 were accepted Monday night at a meeting at which it was announced the post now has the largest membership in its history.

Charles Morris, adjutant, reported the membership currently totals 517. Accepted as new members were Robert H. Bertschy, Loraine O. White, Ralph R. Huff and Sonarman 1C Frank Lawrence Thompson, Navy recruiting officer stationed in East Liverpool.

A contribution of $25 was authorized for the City Park. It was announced Mike Sweeney, John Merriman, Melvin Hissam and Jeddie Spencer will attend the annual service officers conference May 15-17 at Jacksons Mills.

Two post members are to be named later to attend a smoke control seminar at Weirton. The 1st District convention will be held May 24 at Follansbee, and delegates will be elected along with new post officers at the next meeting May 11.

Tickets are on sale for the Pirate baseball game Sunday. A chartered bus will leave the post home at 10:45 a. m.

Dale Allison, commander, was in charge.
